On Reconnaissance Missions

Turkish Planes Fly Over Cyprus Despite U.N. Plea

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkish jet planes cruised low on reconnaissance missions over northwest Cyprus today only a few hours after the U.N. Security Council appealed to all nations to end flights over Cyprus.

Placard-carrying Greek Cypriots demonstrated outside the U.S. Embassy in Nicosia, shouting for the 400 or so Americans in Cyprus to get out.

"Murderers, get out," they yelled, expressing a conviction that both the United States and Britain supported the Turkish air raids last weekend. "Get out, you sons of donkeys."

Banners demanded: "Yankees go home. . . Britons go home."

A government spokesman in Ankara said the Turkish jets had taken off before receipt of the council's request to all nations to stop flights over Cyprus. He said they were fighters ordered to photograph but not to strafe or bomb Greek Cypriot positions or troop movements.

Greece charged that the Turks also flew over the Greek islands of Crete and Rhodes, both Tuesday and today, and demanded that they quit it.

Premier George Papandreou's Athens government warned Turkey that any further violations of Greek air space "would compel Greece to act accordingly."

Police in Morphou, 25 miles west of Nicosia, sounded the air raid alarm.

A loud explosion was heard from the direction of Xeros Port, six miles farther west.

United Nations headquarters in Nicosia confirmed the reappearance of Turkish planes but a spokesman said first information only told of one Turkish jet fighter flying low over the Turkish-held village of Kokkina.

The Morphou alert lasted more than an hour. Citizens said two Turkish jets roared over several times, apparently flying between Morphou and Xeros.

Turkish jet fighters carried out daily attacks on Greek Cypriot villages in northwest Cyprus from last Friday until Monday.

Tuesday, Turkish planes confined their flights to reconnaissance over the Kokkina region where Greek and Turkish Cypriot forces are observing a cease fire after heavy fighting last week.

President Makarios said his Greek Cypriots would fight "alone or with others" to preserve their rule of Cyprus, in a broadcast Tuesday that underscored a rift with Greece.

While Makarios rallied his people in the nationwide broadcast, Athens radio said Greek Cypriots launched an offensive against Turkish Cypriot positions in northwest Cyprus Aug. 5 without consulting Greece. Turkey responded with four days of air attacks on Greek Cypriot territory.

Athens radio said the Greek Cypriots broke an agreement in failing to get Greece's approval of the military campaign.

It said Greek Premier George Papandreou sent a cable to Makarios saying: "I express my deepest sorrow because we have agreed differently and you have acted differently."

Greek Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou flew to Athens Tuesday and met with Papandreou according to Athens radio. Later, the Greek government issued a communique pledging full support to Greek Cypriots in case of another Turkish attack.

"In view of the barbaric Turkish bombing of the noncombatant population, the Athens government decided in an extraordinary session to throw its full weight in support of Cyprus," Athens radio said.

The broadcast said the Greek government deferred a decision to send its air force into action against the Turkish jets until the U.N. Security Council in New York considered the crisis.

Goldwater's Charge Hit By Johnson

Senator Claimed U.S. Depleting Its Nuclear Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and the Pentagon have fired back at Sen. Barry Goldwater's charge that the Administration is depleting the "arsenal for the defense of freedom."

The Defense Department described as "totally false" Goldwater's statement that the U.S. capacity to deliver nuclear weapons may be reduced by 90 per cent in the next decade.

And President Johnson, addressing the same audience that heard Goldwater's charge — the members of the National Association of Counties — said:

"Our resources are committed, our sacrifices are made, our vigil is maintained so that there shall be no win for aggression in our times."

In his speech Monday, Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, said the United States faces the prospect of going into the 1970s without a single new manned bomber.

"Under our present defense leadership, with its utter disregard for new weapons, our deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut down by 90 per cent in the next decade," Goldwater asserted, unless present plans are changed.

Not so, the Pentagon said Tuesday night through Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester.

Sylvester's statement said Goldwater's charge was "not only without foundation but contrary to the facts."

96 Of Craft Pressed Into Giant Attack

Carry Nearly 1,000 Troops; U.S. Army Lieutenant Killed

XA BA HAO, Viet Nam (AP) — One of the largest helicopter assaults of the South Viet Nam war was hurled today against a reported concentration of some 3,000 Communist Viet Cong in a jungle area.

Ninety-six Vietnamese and U.S. Army helicopters carried nearly 1,000 Vietnamese troops into the attack.

Minutes after the assault began, a young U.S. Army first lieutenant slumped dead at his controls.

A 50-caliber armor-piercing machinegun bullet had passed through the windshield as the helicopter was making a strafing pass and pierced his heart.

"He was the seventh pilot in our class of 50 to be killed in Viet Nam," Capt. Robert Estes of Anson, Maine, said.

Another armed helicopter, flown by Maj. Ralph Irvin of Redding, Calif., also was shot up badly but limped back to Saigon. Redding and his crew escaped injury.

Every available helicopter in the southern half of South Viet Nam was rounded up for the operation.

But the morning started poorly. The helicopters and the Vietnamese Air Force fighters that were to have blasted rockets into the assault zone had to turn away when heavy ground fog rolled in.

It was nearly 9:30 a.m. before the operation got under way again.

"It's nice for the Viet Cong this way," a crewman said. "Our spotter planes have given them fair warning. They've seen the sky black with choppers, and now they have a couple of hours to pack up at leisure."

In the jungle, scores of smoke bursts erupted, and tracers arched up at the helicopters. Machineguns in the fast-moving helicopters chattered, and rockets roared from their pods.

(This correspondent was knicked on the face by flying metal).

Troop-carrying helicopters touched down about six seconds, just long enough to unload their men. Only a few troops reported enemy contact.

"In this mess of jungle, there could be 2,000 or 20,000 Viet Cong hiding, and we'd never see them," an American paratroop adviser said angrily.

But Viet Cong antiaircraft batteries continued to hammer away from under their canopy of foliage.

Returning to Saigon from the second lift, helicopters again drew murderous fire.

Near the same place Tuesday, the Viet Cong hit a government outpost, killing 11 defenders and capturing 19 rifles.

$350,000 Cost Set In Expansion

The Mackintosh - Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. at Midland is due for a $350,000. expansion of facilities, according to Carl E. Anderson, Bliss president at the Canton headquarters.

The project is part of a $7 million expansion and modernization program in the company's plants in Midland, Pittsburgh and Salem. These plants constitute the firm's rolling Mill Division.

SET AT the Midland plant is installation of a "shot - blast unit" for cleaning rough castings, and new facilities to house the unit, and to provide space for the relocation of the annealing furnaces.

Peterson added "this is the forerunner of major capital investments in Midland."

The Midland plant is basically a steel foundry, producing mill rolls, sinter pots and other castings.

Peterson said that while the expansions and improvements are not expected to produce an immediate increase in employment, they should lead to more effective production and deliveries, enabling the company to sell more goods, and eventually leading to larger employment.

—:—

C. R. HODGSON, plant manager at Midland, said preparation for the enlargement of facilities is now under way and construction is expected to start in the near future.

He said the original timetable called for the project to be completed by the end of the year.

A $5-million program has been announced for the South Side Pittsburgh plant, calling for an expansion and modernization program, and a new machine shop facilities.

THE SALEM division has a $2 million expansion underway, calling for an overall renovation and upgrading of the plant, new milling equipment and a new machine shop.

Highway Aide Reveals Date

Bidding Now Set Nov. 24 On Next Link Of Freeway

The State Highway Department plans to open bids for construction of the next phase of the Ohio River - Lake Erie freeway Nov. 24, Earl W. Nelson, deputy director of the Division 11 headquarters in New Philadelphia, disclosed in addressing the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

He announced the date to consider offers for the second southern phase in a general review of plans for the 97 - mile long, $100 million four-lane highway that will stretch from East Liverpool to Ashtabula.

COST OF the second southern phase, from State Route 170 to a point near the intersection of Routes 7 and 30 at Apples Corners, has been estimated at $5,000,000. Length of the project will be 2.9 miles, and two interchanges will be constructed, Nelson disclosed.

The highway department is now purchasing ground for the right-of-way, and engineering plans are being finished.

The deputy director estimated the entire highway, to be known as State Route 11, will be opened for first traffic about 1970-71.

Construction is proceeding in stages, and the highway department opened the 1.8 miles of northbound lanes from the city limits to Route 170 on Monday.

There are five more stages of work in Division 11 in Columbiana County, Nelson said. They are:

First: From State 170 to Apples Corners, estimated cost $5 million, bids to be opened Nov. 24.

Second: From State Route 154 to State Route 45, estimated cost $5,350,000, bids to be opened in 1967.

Third: southeast from 0.95 mile east of State Route 45 to 0.6 mile southeast of State

Deputy Interrupts Burglary At Calcutta

Deputy Sheriff Herman (Cy) Wellman may have interrupted an attempted burglary at 5:18 a. m. today at the Potters Lumber Co. on Route 170 near Calcutta.

He found the front door pried open and called East Liverpool police for help in searching the building. They found no one. David Beatty, a company officer, could find nothing taken, Wellman said.

The deputy said Constable Lester McElhaney of St. Clair Township checked the building at 4 a. m. and everything was in order.

Lt. W. E. McDaniel and two other officers aided in making the search for the burglar, the sheriff's office said.

Senate Fight Shapes Up On Redistricting

Rider Sponsored By Dirksen Seeks Link To Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate battle lines formed today over efforts to tie a legislative reapportionment rider to the coattails of the foreign aid bill.

Administration leaders saw little prospect of heading off a long floor fight on the rider sponsored by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Unless a compromise can be reached, final action on the bill may not come until late next week, killing any prospect for the adjournment of Congress in advance of the Democratic National Convention which opens in Atlantic City a week from Monday.

The foreign aid bill suffered two setbacks Tuesday.

First, the Senate trimmed $216.7 million from the $3,516,700,000 asked by President Johnson and approved by the House. The action came on a 50-35 vote adopting an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. This reduction, added to a $50 million cut recommended by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, slashed the bill $266.7 million below the original "bare bones" request. Supporting the slash were 31 Democrats and 19 Republicans, while 26 Democrats and 9 Republicans opposed it.

Shortly afterward, the program suffered what Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., its floor manager, described as a much more crippling blow. The Senate weighted the bill with an amendment that would raise interest rates on all development loans abroad, including those under the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

Administration leaders were hopeful the cut will be partially restored, and that the interest amendment can be eliminated or modified in a meeting of Senate and House conferees to iron out differences in the two bills.

45 Employers Tardy On Paying Income Tax

About 45 employers still haven't complied with notices to turn over funds withheld from employes' wages during the quarter ending June 30, the city income tax office said today.

Notices were sent to 51 delinquent employers a week ago but only six have responded, the tax office said. The city has 579 employers who withhold taxes from payrolls, of which 528 paid on schedule.

The deadline for payments is 30 days after the end of the quarter, the office said.

Water Project Group To File Fund Request

Returning from Philadelphia "highly encouraged" after a consultation Tuesday with the Community Facilities Administration, the Pughtown Public Service District Board has set a special meeting this weekend to formally sign application to the CFA for a $400,000 loan to finance installation of a central water system.

Three members of the board and an engineer hired by the village for the project reported a favorable outlook for financing of the water system after presenting preliminary plans and cost estimates yesterday in Philadelphia.

The group learned that the project is a type similar to those usually handled by the CFA, and Atty. Edwin Flowers commented that "everything seemed favorable for approval."

Making the trip were Atty. Flowers, Oliver Glass and Richard Houk, chairman, of the Public Service District Board, and Gary Keith of A. R. Todd & Associates, Inc. of Wheeling, engineering firm.

They were presented suggestions in a consultation with the engineering and finance staff of the CFA on the village's plan to seek a $400,000 loan for the water project.

A special meeting will be held by the board Saturday night at 8 at the Fairview Presbyterian Church to formally sign the application.

Atty. Flowers said the board should receive announcement within 30 days on approval or rejection once the loan application is filed. He explained the loan, if approved, would be "more or less guaranteed, due to the fact the CPA will sell bonds to finance the loan, either to private bidders or to the federal government.

GOP Chieftains Launch Parley

BULLETIN

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater disavowed extremists of the left and right today, and promised, if he wins the presidency, to consult in advance with former President Eisenhower on appointments to key Cabinet posts.

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Republican chieftains gathered in summit conference today in the wake of a secret preview talk between GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

The Arizona senator and the New York governor were to fly in early today for the closed-door conclave of 38 party leaders, among them former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

GOP governors and gubernatorial candidates, summoned here by the Arizona senator, talked confidently of party unity as they gathered for the conference.

But there was no word on the outcome of the secret session Tuesday that brought Rockefeller, a leader among Republican moderates, to Goldwater's Washington apartment.

That session recalled Rockefeller's 1960 rendezvous with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in New York. The Rockefeller-Nixon meeting helped shape the party's moderate 1960 platform. Goldwater called it "a Munich."

There was another advance gathering, at the mansion of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in nearby Indiantown Gap. About two dozen top Republicans, among them vice presidential nominee William E. Miller of New York and national chairman Dean Burch, were on hand for a private dinner there Tuesday night.

It was billed as purely a social gathering, and Miller said no business was transacted.

Burch said he knew of the Rockefeller-Goldwater meeting, but didn't know what went on.

In Washington, Goldwater's press secretary, Edward K. Neller, said, "I'll tell you all I know. They met."

Rockefeller has said he supports the Goldwater-Miller ticket but plans to campaign only in New York.

Election Board's Action

Lack Of Signatures Bars Vote On New Park Board

For lack of sufficient valid signatures of qualified electors, the County Election Board Tuesday afternoon rejected a petition filed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce seeking a vote at the general election Nov. 3 on a proposal calling for establishment of a new City Park Commission in East Liverpool.

The petitions contained 461 signatures on their face when filed by Jaycee representatives early yesterday afternoon. In checking the signatures for validity, the board had reduced the number to 405 by the time its meeting convened. A minimum of 417 signatures was required in order for a ballot place to be granted.

THE SIGNATURE requirement is based on 5 per cent of the number of qualified electors in East Liverpool on the date the petition was filed. East Liverpool has 8,340 registered voters as of yesterday, which set the signature requirement at 417, the Election Board pointed out.

The board's staff began checking the petitions for the validity of the signatures shortly after they were filed. It said on one petition alone there were about 25 signatures which had been affixed in lead pencil, which is contrary to law.

In addition, other electors had signed their names with only a first initial such as "J. Smith," and in some instances both the names of the husband and wife had been signed together on a single line, such as "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe." Both types of signatures had to be eliminated as they are contrary to state law and unacceptable, the board pointed out.

PRIOR TO THE filing, the board had received the green light from Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw and Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for ac-

Mercury Dips After Storms Rake District

Area Damage Light As Gusty Winds Hit Many Ohio Points

The mercury was falling today in the wake of a series of storms that brought gusty winds and heavy showers to the Ohio Valley with high winds at velocities estimated at 25 to 30 mph. at times. Twigs and limbs from trees littered streets and TV antennas were twisted.

Oddly, the storm series swept out of the south — most of those in the Ohio Valley come out of the northwest. There was one to the south of the city about 3 p. m., another about 4:15 and a third at 9 among the distinct storms, part of a general turbulance that hit in many points of the state as the weather front moved across Ohio ahead of cold air originating in Canada.

Besides heavy rain, hail and lightning, several funnel clouds were reported sighted.

Tornado clouds were reported north of Conneaut, at Copley, and over Lake Erie three miles north of Cleveland in northern Ohio and one west of Columbus in Central Ohio. None apparently touched ground, however.

At the London Correctional Institution in Madison County, an inmate, 26-year-old Charles Cade, was hit by a bolt of lightning while playing baseball on the prison grounds.

Heavy rains and gusty winds were reported at Cleveland, Upper Sandusky, Kenton, Larue in Marion County, Marysville, Lorain, Columbus, Cincinnati and Georgetown in Brown County.

Hail up to three-fourths of an inch in diameter was reported at Wellington in Lorain County.

Operator Hurt When Truck Hits Abutment

A Fort Wayne (Ind.) truck driver was in "fair" condition at City Hospital with injuries suffered when he wrecked his vehicle on Route 30 near Laughlins Corners at 3:30 a.m.

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said Kenneth Welling, 48, was headed west when he left the road and struck a bridge abutment, upsetting his tractor - trailer. Traffic was tied up for a short while until the truck could be removed.

Welling suffered abrasions of the leg, and possible head and shoulder injuries.

$25,354 Bid Filed For Dresden Project

The Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry was the only bidder when the State Highway Department opened offers Tuesday in Columbus on the blacktop resurfacing of old Routes 7 and 30 through California Hollow to Route 170.

The Belmont County firm, which operates a plant on the River Rd., asked $25,354 for the 1.83-mile stretch from the former freeway link in the 1800 block on Dresden Ave. to the Route 170 intersection. The department estimated the cost at $26,400.

City Council approved two ordinances late in June pledging the city's co-operation and appropriating $600 as the city's share for the 1,426 feet of resurfacing from the former freeway link to the city limits.

Freeway Link Bids Nov. 24

Route 267, estimated cost $3,600,000, bids to be opened in 1967.

Fourth: From State Route 154 to State Route 164, estimated cost $7,100,000, bids to be opened in 1969.

Fifth: From State Route 164 to the Mahoning County line, estimated cost $3,000,000, bids to be opened in 1969.

NELSON disclosed the last of the contracts are to be let in 1969, with the highway, built to Interstate Highway standards, to be in use by 1970-71.

A 6-mile stretch in Ashtabula was opened earlier.

The highway official said exits are planned linking State Route 11 to the Ohio Turnpike, Interstate 90 and State Route 62.

Nelson said the extensive highway construction program scheduled for the next five years was made possible to a large extent by passage of the $500 million bond issue in May.

"In Division 11, we have a $196,600,000 construction program scheduled for the next five years," Nelson told the club.

"Of this amount, $60,200,000 is interstate highways, which have top priority, so deducting this we have $136,400,000 scheduled for primary, secondary and urban highways."

—:—

OF THIS amount, $31,530,000 is scheduled for Columbiana County, Nelson related.

Nelson also explained the selection of such a construction program of highways for Columbiana County.

"First of all, we scheduled the projects on the major thoroughfare system that we were committed to by the passage of the $500 million bond issue.

"In Columbiana County," he added, "this was the Lake Erie to Ohio River highway and the relocation of State Route 7 through Wellsville."

The other projects scheduled were based on high accident sections and from requests and complaints he said.

IN CITING the proposed relocation of State Route 7 through Wellsville, Nelson disclosed work is scheduled to begin in 1968.

The Wellsville project's cost will be $4,500,000, he said.

According to a program list furnished by Nelson, the length of the bypass in Wellsville would be 2.6 miles.

The location is listed as "north from 0.4 mile north of the southern city limits to 0.33 mile south of the north city limits."

Another local project was also listed — construction of a bridge on 9th St. in East Liverpool, set for fiscal 1969 at a cost of $275,000.

WORK IS scheduled in fiscal 1965 on an improvement to 0.3 mile of Route 45 near the A. & P. Plant in Salem, a $200,000 project, Nelson related.

"It is our opinion that we have a good program," Nelson told the club. "Many highways will still need improvements, but it is impossible to take care of all of them with the money we have available.

"Several years ago a highway-needs study was made for the state, and at that time it was estimated that it would take $689 million to put the roads in Division 11 in the shape they should be," Nelson said.

OF THE SEVEN counties in Division 11, Columbiana ranks second in the amount of money being spent on improvements to urban and primary roads, Nelson told the club.

Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce and past president of the lake-river highway group, was program chairman.

He introduced other "top brass" of the Division 11 headquarters, including Levi (Jack) Kimball, assistant deputy director; Ralph Schwartz, programming engineer, and Richard Robinson, who works on special projects.

"WE HAVE been very fortunate in having the services of these men," Atty. Lang commented. Alvin T. Babb, president, presided.

Introduced as new members were W. E. (Pete) Kaiser, city realtor; the Rev. D. Ross Salisbury Jr., rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, and Jack Allison. The club's annual picnic will be Aug. 26 at the YMCA camp at Pine Ridge, Percy R. Blake, honorary chairman, announced.

4 Drivers Fined; 4 Others Forfeit

LISBON — Four motorists were fined and four forfeited appearance bonds Tuesday in county Judge J. L. MacDonald's court. Fined were:

Robert L. Brown, 26, of Salem, operating a motor vehicle without valid driver's license, $25 and costs; Joseph J. Chuey, 22, of Lisbon R.D. 1, speeding, $15 and costs; Evan D. Lewis, 71, of Lisbon R.D. 5, stopping on highway, $5 and costs, and John Tice, 66, of Salineville R.D., failure to obey a railroad flasher, fine of $5 suspended.

Forfeiting were Donald Thames, 20, of Akron, no valid operator's license, $25, and speeding, $15; and Charles T. Morrow, 19, Braddock, Pa., Edward S. Gancos, 20, Cardale, Pa., and James W. Greenwood, 21, East Millsburg, Pa., speeding, $15 each.

Paper Says Kennedy To Run For Senate

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has decided to enter the New York race for U.S. senator, the New York Times said today.

Similar reports have been printed or broadcast by other news media, including the New York Journal-American, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co.

The Times said it learned Tuesday night that Kennedy had told relatives and a few close friends of his decision.

to postpone its entire racing card until tonight.

Reports of downed trees came from all over the state.

Two boat docks were set adrift on the Ohio River at Ripley in Southern Ohio, but three men working on the docks swam safely to shore.

More than an inch of rain drenched the area in 50 minutes when the storm was at its peak.

The Stratton Dam reported 1.3 inches of rain fell between 9:10 and 10 last night, with total precipitation for the night measuring 1.44 inches.

The rain halted at midnight, then began again at 3:40 a. m. today, lasting more than an hour.

Electric service was interrupted for about an hour in an area back of Wellsville and west of Route 45, a spokesman for the Ohio Power Co. said. Other outages were in scattered locations, chiefly from fuses being blown and fallen tree limbs.

At Lisbon, strong winds accompanying the electrical storm at 9 last night left village streets and lawns littered with leaves, twigs and branches.

The street crew was at work this morning removing a big limb which fell across Pritchard Ave. between Chesnut St. and E. Lincoln Way.

Electrical current was interrupted briefly during the storm and street lights were out in several sections of town for several hours.

The entire Guilford Lake area eight miles west was without current from 9 to 12:15 a.m.

Lightning apparently caused a short-circuit in the electrical system serving a flashing caution light on Route 7 at Beaver Local High School in Williamsport.

Electric service was interrupted for a short time in the Rogers area, and branches were blown from trees onto Route 7 in the village area.

The district was due a high of only near 70 degrees today contrasted to the mid-80 high of yesterday, indicative of the temperature drop. The downtown had 63 at 6 a.m. and it fell 2 degrees in an hour.

And tonight will be chillier—the low range will be 48 to 54 degrees with a few showers likely. Winds will accompany the cooling trend.

Home Head Injured

LISBON — Russell Phillis, superintendent of the Columbiana County Home, was admitted to Salem City Hospital at 12:20 a. m. today after a fall at the home. Hospital personnel said he received a possible fracture of the right leg and lacerated forehead. He was in "fairly good" condition.

A Dependable Newspaper Serving the Tri-State District

It Was Called 'Integrity'

Ohio's Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (11th district) has made some well-reasoned arguments in favor of his proposal for a House select committee on standards and conduct.

This would be the counterpart of a committee proposed in the Senate by John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. The two Republicans have acted as a legislative conscience in the wake of the Bobby Baker Investigation.

Their proposed committees—Sen. Cooper's proposal already has been approved—would be the first of many necessary steps, according to Rep. Bolton. His committee, unlike the Senate committee, would be empowered to give advisory opinions to persons asking for them.

Rep. Bolton speaks of "ever-increasing pressures placed upon members of Congress." He seems to mean senators and representatives are more in need of advice and counsel in resisting pressures than they used to be. Moreover, he seems to imply that situations are arising in which a legislator's own conscience is not a dependable guide.

This is an engaging thought.

If integrity is not achievable through personal conscience, is it achievable from the dictums of boards of conduct? Is American politics to become like American baseball—a winner-take-all contest in which anything is allowable that the umpire doesn't see?

There once was a quality in sports called sportsmanship that regulated the behavior of all participants, except those who scorned sportsmanship.

There used to be a quality in human affairs called personal integrity that made it possible for men to deal with one another in confidence, without calling for witnesses to make sure the deal was honest.

Shoe On The Other Foot

If you are following the byplay between Congress and the U. S. Supreme Court over reapportionment, the latest twist is a charge being made in Washington that Congress is flirting with an unconstitutional invasion of the court's authority.

The charge arises from an amendment to the foreign aid bill sponsored by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio's fourth district to stall reapportionment ordered by federal courts from two to four years. In the meantime, Republicans in the House and Senate would be pushing a proposed constitutional amendment to nullify the Supreme Court's June 15 ruling that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned according to population.

Thus, the Republican party is taking a position against not only reapportionment but the federal judiciary's right to have its rulings obeyed. The Dirksen-McCulloch proposal will be compromised, in all probability, with a scheme to slow down reapportionment by ordering federal courts to take all legitimate difficulties into account.

This could have the same effect as the "all deliberate speed" admonition in the school desegration order — speed that has turned out to be so deliberate the court finally admitted last May 25 that its patience had run out. After 10 years nothing at all had been done in areas of 100 per cent contempt for the Supreme Court, like Prince Edward County, Virginia where schools were ordered out of existence to avoid desegregation.

The compromise plan would keep the matter within the jurisdiction of the judiciary. It would get rid of the charge that Congress was doing to the Supreme Court what its members everlastingly accuse the Supreme Court of doing to Congress — making an unconstitutional invasion of its rights.

Three Years Later

Three years ago, East Berlin was assembling material for an historic construction project — the Berlin Wall. Construction was to begin Aug. 13.

The wall began with a barbed wire fence which East Berlin troops, police, and factory militia began erecting at 3 a.m.

East German workmen began building a four-foot wall of concrete blocks two days later. On Aug. 22 transit for "foreigners" (including troops) was limited to the Freiedrichstrasse crossing point. West Germans had to buy, a special pass.

The mass exodus of East German refugees was stopped. More than 16,000 of these had registered at West Berlin centers in the preceding fortnight.

East Germany had been bleeding to death before the wall went up. The lifeblood of its professional and skilled classes was flowing to the West. Approximately 200,000 East German refugees had fled to West Germany in 1961.

First U.S. reaction to the wall was to increase the number of troops in West Berlin. President Kennedy sent Vice President Johnson and later Gen. Lucius D. Clay to reassure the people of the city.

On Oct. 26 U.S. troops and tanks drew to within a few hundred yards of Soviet troops and tanks at the Brandenburg gate in a showdown that lasted several days. Gen. Clay subsequently disclosed that the American troop movement was "deliberately designed to bring a Soviet confrontation."

The challenge was perhaps tardy. It was later reported that the East German troops who put up the first barbed wire had been issued no ammunition.

A look at the Berlin Wall shocks even the most sophisticated observer. Minutes after viewing it in June 1963 a shaken President Kennedy declared: "There are some who say in Europe and elsewhere 'we can work with Communists.' Let them come to Berlin."

Wholehearted, Halfhearted

An exchange of letters between Sen. Goldwater and former Vice President Nixon has set the record straight on the "extremism" quibble that was started by the Republican presidential nominee's acceptance speech at San Francisco.

"Wholehearted devotion to liberty is unassailable and halfhearted devotion to justice is indefensible."

What he said in his acceptance speech was:

"Extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. Moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

Mr. Nixon pointed out that a statement at this time could block the development of a false issue in the campaign. The fact is, Sen. Goldwater should not have used "extremism" in the way he used it, because it gave his critics a chance to raise an issue against him.

He now realizes how this came about and regrets the damage it caused, particularly to the unity of the Republican party. It was obvious to all who took into account the context of his acceptance speech that he was not talking about "extremism" offensive to political moderates but was using the word in the sense of complete dedication to a worthy cause.

The Republican nominee must guard every utterance lest the same thing happen to him again. He has discovered one of the pitfalls of public utterance — the ill-advised word.

For A Beginning

By Truman Twill

Highway slaughter is a scandal for the nation and a grisly threat to everybody who rides in an auto.

But something is crazy about the way the slaughter is regarded by those who deplore it.

They tell us we must be more careful.

Their exhortation never gets through to the people who need to be more careful.

Most of us are so careful we have accomplished a statistical miracle. We account for the fact fewer accidents occur year by year relative to total miles traveled.

There are more people and more cars all the time. If accidents had kept increasing in proportion to these totals, no one would feel safe in a car.

But thanks to careful drivers, the risk is still not unreasonable.

THE RISK is there and will continue to be there as long as the elements of risk continue to be there.

They are obvious.

Nearly every car on the road is capable of going 75 per cent faster than any existing speed limit. Is it any wonder drivers who lack judgment kill themselves and others by going as fast as the cars will go?

Willy-nilly licensing of drivers puts on the road anyone with the desire to be there.

Add to this the fact there is almost no enforcement of the few practical laws about traffic but absurdly rigorous enforcement of many petty, unrealistic laws—and is it any wonder the nation's streets and highways have been turned into a ghastly game of traffic roulette?

IF DRIVERS were screened to begin with and cracked down on ruthlessly thereafter for every violation of practical laws—if the aim were to confine driving rights to people with a demonstrable capacity for responsibility—highway slaughter could be eliminated.

But nobody goes at it that way.

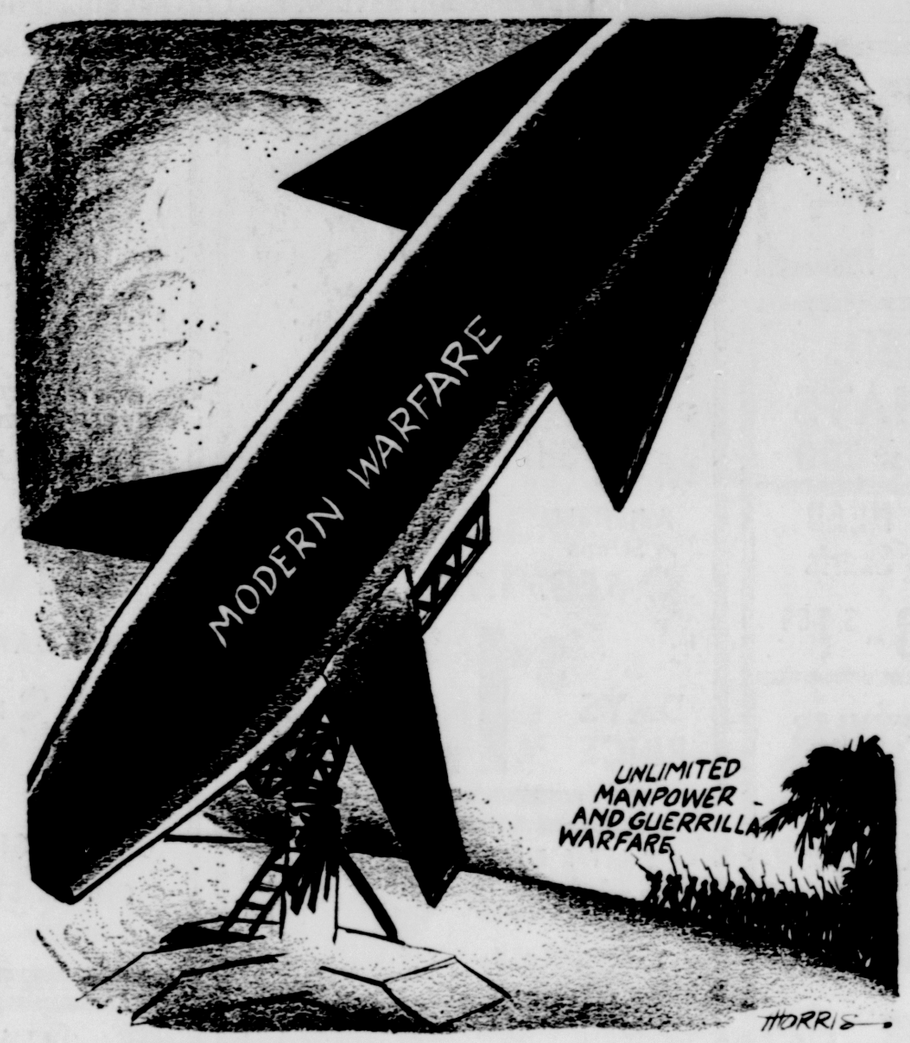

Instead, all of us are urged to be more careful for goodness sake and we are the only ones who take notice.

There is only one more thing careful drivers could do to widen the margin of safety—stay off the highways and keep out of harm's way. That isn't possible. Everybody depends on auto transportation.

But as far as traffic slaughter is concerned, many things could be done—maximum penalties for all convicted offenders, crackdowns on drivers who do dangerous things, removal of emphasis on autos that will go over 100 mph on roads that are risky at 50 mph, a thorough overhaul of licensing procedures and more license suspensions, far more highway patrol to curb recklessness, increasing the age for beginners.

For a beginning . . .

But Still No Pushover

The Electronic Age At Its Best

By Victor Riesel

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND

There's a large international "think" factory a few miles from here in a tiny, obscure community called Meyrin. There, in a complex of gray and white buildings men stare at weirdly marked blackboards for hours, move in occasionally to jot down a hieroglyphic, and frequently break the silence to talk in what sounds like astro-algebra to the layman. These scientists are in pure and fundamental research into the nature of basic matter, high energy nuclear physics and the mystery of elementary particles.

Victor Riesel

At any moment a formula on one of the blackboards could make even the hydrogen and mysterious cobalt bombs as well as modern living and space "travel" as archaic as the temples I saw at Luxor on the Nile. Man will need electronic brains to cope with such futurism. Some call these machines automation and the theory, cybernetics. What of these machines? What are the still creaky "sophisticated" computers we now have doing to us, our jobs, our factories, our economic future, our unions, strikes, collective bargaining and our way of life right now?

WILL UNIONS disappear as blue collar workers dwindle and the 30 million white collar workers and 1.2 million engineers and technicians in the U.S. double and triple?

Answers to these questions were given here by Theodore W. Kheel, the imaginative labor mediator who has found so many answers for American presidents, publishers, railroad and waterfront industrialists and labor leaders.

Mr. Kheel was the dynamo behind a week-long conference called by the American Foundation on Automation and Employment Inc. at the Institute of International Labor Studies in one of the old League of Nations buildings here.

At one of the dramatic sessions with Soviet, Polish and Yugoslav as well as American and continental scholars, Mr. Kheel predicted that there soon will be a new type of unionism in America. It will result from the slow attrition of the veteran and traditional unions which play such an important industrial and political role in our country today.

Moving into the vacuum which will be created as electronic brains and other control equipment replace the blue collar man will be a new form of white collar organization.

IT MAY NOT have the name of a union but it will act like a union, bargain like a union, talk like a union, even strike like a union. It may be known as a professional society or association. But it will be a union by any other name. Furthermore it will have millions of members in the offices, financial centers and the brain headquarters of big automated factories.

The boom in white collar organization is coming, Mr. Kheel predicted. Whether it will be part of the old AFL-CIO craft and industrial unions will depend on whether the leaders of today can launch successful unionizing drives with men and jargon which can interest and attract the white collar people in the big think factories now operating all over the U.S.

Mr. Kheel did not come to the foundation's international automation conference to bury American labor, though such unionists as the National Maritime Union's Joseph Curran, and the Seafarers International Union's Keith Terpe, believed he was too pessimistic.

MR. KHEEL pointed to studies of 36 major American industries. Technological changes (automation) now in sight are expected to cut employment by 1970 in 18 of these industries including such heavily unionized industries as aerospace, bakery, coal, dairy, lumber and wood, breweries, meat, railroads, telephone and textiles.

"There are seven other industries," Mr. Kheel reported, "in which the trend in employment by 1970 is uncertain." These are the highly unionized iron, steel, motor vehicles and equipment fields. Even among the 14 industries in which employment is expected to expand by 1970, the outlook for the huge construction field is uncertain.

This means that Mr. Kheel and the scholars he addressed believe that basic unionism in America will either atrophy or slowly change character so that it will eventually become an overwhelmingly white collar movement.

American labor's power structure today is based on the workers in three major industries —manufacturing, transportation and construction. The employes in these areas make up 75 per cent of America's unions. Add another six per cent by including the miners and you have the bulk of American labor.

IF THESE FIELDS are so affected by automation that employment of blue collar men declines, the powerful unions of today must automatically decline too.

Thus the old line unions could become automation's most spectacular victims. They could dwindle to a few strong crafts and industrial unions and consolidate. They could in a decade pass leadership on to the white collar men now moving forward.

If, as Mr. Kheel pointed out, engineers and technicians are increasing as rapidly as blue collar workers once did and think factories are becoming as large as old assemblyline factories with 7,000 to 10,000 white collar men and women in each, the shift inside labor appears inevitable. So will there be changes in negotiations, strike crises, political alignments and types of fringe demands, especially in the areas of culture and holiday time.

It's an exciting new world which was explored here by the scholars brought together by the foundation headed by industrialist John I. Snyder, Jr. and labor leader Al Hayes of the Machinists.

It's a world no old work rules can restrain.

Prayer Issue Revived

By David Lawrence

Justice Brennan Stirs The Issues Again

Justice William J. Brennan, Jr., of the Supreme Court has, unwittingly perhaps, stirred up more controversy on the so-called prayer decisions of the high court. Mr. Brennan, in an address in New York City to the conference of chief justices of the states, deplored the criticism which has been leveled at the court, and said:

David Lawrence

"Criticism which is falsely premised, hostile, erosive and destructive hardly serves noble ends."

Mr. Brennan said that lawyers have a duty "to correct those whose attacks are founded upon exaggerated and distorted notions of what a court has done." He added:

"To take a specific and current example, lawyers as well as laymen are fully entitled to voice their disagreement with our court's recent decisions concerning prayer in the public schools.

"WHEN SUCH criticism departs completely from what the court actually held and said in those cases, and accuses the court of having decreed the removal of all vestiges of religion from our public life—of chaplains from the armed services, opening prayers from legislative sessions, "In God We Trust" from the coins—when the criticism is directed at this wholly distorted version of the court's decisions, I suggest that it is irresponsible criticism."

Justice Brennan has by no means clarified the situation. He has failed to point out that the members of the court themselves have been responsible for much of the criticism because of their ambiguous language, which now has resulted in a movement to secure a constitutional amendment to permit voluntary prayers in public schools. Nearly 150 proposed amendments have been drafted by lawyers and have been submitted to the House Committee on the Judiciary.

It's the contradictory nature of the utterances of members of the Supreme Court itself which really puzzles the public.

JUSTICE BLACK, for example, who wrote the majority opinion in June 1962, in the case which prohibited New York State from directing public-school children to recite a particular prayer, did not deal with the question of other forms of religious exercises, voluntary or otherwise, but merely put in a footnote which said:

"There is of course nothing in the decision . . . that is inconsistent with the fact that school children and others are officially encouraged to express love for our country by reciting historical documents such as the Declaration of Independence which contain references to the deity or by singing officially espoused anthems which include the composer's professions of faith in a supreme being, or with the fact that there are many manifestations in our public life of belief in God.

"Such patriotic or ceremonial occasions bear no true resemblance to the unquestioned religious exercise that the State of New York has sponsored in this instance."

The American people were given an entirely different definition in a "concurring opinion" filed in the same case by a member of the majority, Justice Douglas, who wrote:

"It is customary in deciding a constitutional question to treat it in its narrowest form. Yet at times the setting of the question gives it a form and content which no abstract treatment could give. The point for decision is whether the government can constitutionally finance a religious exercise. Our system at the federal and state levels is presently honeycombed with such financing. Nevertheless, I think it is an unconstitutional undertaking whatever form it takes."

THEN IN A FOOTNOTE to this same opinion, Justice Douglas added a list of "aids to religion" at all levels of government. This included chaplains in both houses of Congress and in the armed services, the addition of the word "God" to the Pledge of Allegiance adopted by Congress, and use of the slogan "In God We Trust" by the Treasury Department.

This contradiction between two justices who voted for the majority decision has led to a fear that in later cases the Supreme Court might ban the use of the name of the deity in governmental documents and ceremonies and end the employment of chaplains in governmental services.

Even in 1963, when the Supreme Court of the United States upheld the objection of atheists to the recitation of the Lord's Prayer in schools, Justice Clark, who wrote the majority opinion, said in a footnote that the question of chaplains in the military services was not being passed upon. Justice Brennan, however, in a "concurring opinion" expressed at length his own views indicating that prayers in public places would not be as restricted as had been supposed.

The court has not issued a majority opinion since on many of these disputed points.

Political Marvel

By J. W. Davis

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the marvels of politics is the way politicians can adjust to situations.

Take this Republican unity meeting today at Hershey, Pa. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, sent out the invitations to Republican governors and gubernatorial nominees.

And the host is Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Just a few weeks ago, Scranton was doing his best to keep the presidential nomination away from Goldwater. He went about the country saying Goldwater should be rejected, that "we need in the White House a leader who thinks claerly, who doesn't shoot from the hip."

For another illustration of how a politician can rise above strong words, look at Goldwater himself.

"Having opposed civil rights until this year, let him make an issue of it. I'll just repeat back to him the thousands of words he has spoken.

"Lyndon Johnson is the biggest faker in the United States. He's the phoniest individual that ever came around."

Before the month was out, Goldwater and Johnson sat down in the White House and talked about the civil rights issue, how to keep from inflaming racial passions.

Goldwater told newsmen the atmosphere at the meeting was good, "we're good friends. We're old political friends."

One of the classic examples of a politician sidestepping a heat-of-the campaign remark came in February 1941, when Wendell L. Willkie was questioned by a senate committee.

Willkie had run against Franklin D. Roosevelt for president the year before and had declared that, "On the basis of Roosevelt's past performance with pledges to the people, you may expect that we will be at war by April 1941, if he is elected."

Willkie was asked at the committee hearing, "Do you still agree that might be the case?" He replied:

"It might be. It was a bit of campaign oratory."

To cap this discussion of political flexibility, there is a story that former Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas tells.

A congressman's friend told him, "Jim, I've just come back from your district and Bill Jones is going to run against you."

"Well, I'm not surprised," the congressman said. "He is a dirty skunk and there is no good in him."

"And furthermore," the friend said, "Charlie Smith is going to help him run."

"They're two of a kind," the congressman reacted. "Scoundrels, both of them."

Then the friend broke down and admitted he had been teasing. He had made up the whole story, that, in fact, Bill and Charlie were both strong for the congressman's re-election.

Reproachfully, the congressman told his caller:

"Now look what you've done. You've made me say ugly things about two of the finest, sweetest characters who ever lived."

Three hundred workmen finished the framework of the Eiffel Tower in two years.

White Sox Whip Slumping Yankees In Doubleheader

Orioles Trim Bosox; Tribe, Twins Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Yogi Berra isn't reaching for the panic button yet. It wouldn't be the thing to do in the staid, gray flannel world of New York Yankee supremacy.

But you'll have to forgive Berra if he's wondering just a bit. He's been a Yankee for 17 years and he's seen pennant races reach into August before. That's where the similarity between his club, which lost a day-night doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and 8-2 Tuesday, and former Yankee teams seems to end.

The White Sox, who had lost 10 straight to New York, weren't about to extend that string. Pete Ward stroked three hits, including his 17th home run and drove in four runs as Chicago snapped the streak with the afternoon victory.

They were even more convincing in the nightcap as Ward had three more hits and Juan Pizarro fired a five-hitter winning his 15th game. Pizarro added insult to injury by capping a five-run Chicago burst in the sixth inning with his third homer of the year — a three-run shot into the right field bleachers.

The double victory pulled the White Sox to within one game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles who edged the Boston Red Sox 8-7. Elsewhere in the American League, Washington whipped Kansas City 5-2, Minnesota downed Detroit 5-3 and Cleveland shut out Los Angeles 3-0.

The losses dropped the third place Yankees 3½ games off the pace, gave them five defeats in six games against Baltimore and Chicago in the last week and left Berra worried.

Baltimore got three two-run homers — the last one Boog Powell's 30th circuit blow of the season—to whip the Red Sox. Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens also connected for the Orioles, who beat relief ace Dick Radatz.

Powell's shot in the seventh inning came on a 1-2 pitch with two out and broke a tie that was created when Robinson clouted his 16th an inning earlier.

Jim King and Don Lock homered to back up Claude Osteen's pitching for the Senators' victory. Osteen, who won his 11th, was replaced by Jim Hannan in the seventh. Nelson Mathews homered for the Athletics in the ninth.

Earl Battey drove in three runs and Tony Oliva slammed his 26th homer as the Twins snapped a seven-game Tiger winning streak. Detroit built an early 3-0 lead around Don Demeter's 15th homer but Hank Aguirre (2-6) couldn't hold it.

Rookie Luis Tiant won his fifth game, a four-hitter, and Max Alvis belted a three-run homer in the ninth inning for all the runs as the Indians blanked the Angels. Alvis' shot, his 13th homer of the season, was the third baseman's first hit since returning to the lineup after missing a month because of spinal meningitis.

Phils, Giants Win: Mets Finally Solve Friend

Aaron Hits 2, Now 14th On Home Run Lists

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a bad night for the New York Yankees all around.

Even Joe DiMaggio was knocked down a peg.

While the Chicago White Sox whipped the Yankees in a doubleheader, Milwaukee's Hank Aaron whipped past the Yankee Clipper into 14th place on the all time home run list, hammering his 19th and 20th of the season as the Braves walloped Houston 9-6 Tuesday night.

The homers lifted Aaron's career total to 362—one more than DiMaggio—and shoved the 30-year-old right-handed swinger into the National League spotlight that has been focusing almost steadily on the tight pennant struggle between Philadelphia and San Francisco.

Aaron's outstanding performances over the last half of the season have gone virtually unnoticed, but he has been hitting at a .355 clip since June 21 and climbed into the No. 6 spot in the league with a .314 average. In the 48 games over that stretch, he has driven in 45 runs.

While Aaron continued his heavy hitting for Milwaukee, Johnny Callison did the same for league-leading Philadelphia, slugging the first grand slam of the season by the Phillies and adding two doubles in a 13-5 walloping of the Chicago Cubs.

The victory kept the Phillies three games in front of the San Francisco Giants, but may have cost them the services of outfielders Cookie Rojas and Tony Gonzalez, the latest additions to an ever-growing injury list.

Rojas jammed both wrists when he ran into the center field wall chasing a fly ball and Gonzalez, his replacement, was hit on his protective helmet by a Dick Ellsworth pitch. Both players were taken to the hospital, but the injuries were not considered serious.

The Giants rode homers by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda to a 6-3 victory over St. Louis, the Cincinnati Reds edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 on homers by Frank Robinson and Deron Johnson and the New York Mets defeated Pittsburgh 3-2 in a game halted after 7½ innings by rain.

Frank Thomas slammed three doubles for his new Philadelphia teammates, driving in three runs for a 3-0 lead but the Cubs came back to move in front on homers by Andre Rodgers and Ernie Banks.

Callison then broke it up with his grand slam, capping a five-run rally touched off by Gus Triandos' homer. The two homers left the Cubs' Ellsworth, a 22-game winner last season, with a 12-14 record.

Harvey Kuenn collected three doubles for the Giants, triggered three rallies and scored three runs. He came home on Hal Lanier's single in the first and Cepeda followed with his 20th homer. In the third Kuenn scored on Mays' 33rd homer and in the seventh he was driven in on a sacrifice fly by Cepeda.

Robinson homered in the first for the Reds, then tripled in the fourth and Johnson followed with his homer. That was enough for Joey Jay, who struck out 13, scattered seven Dodger hits and brought his record to 8-8.

The Mets beat their nemisis, Bob Friend, who had a 12-0 lifetime record against the New Yorkers. Larry Elliot drove in two of the Mets' runs with a homer and single while Jack Fisher limited the Pirates to three hits.

Angels Defeated, 3-0

Alvis' Homer In Ninth Wins For Tribe, Tiant

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Max Alvis picked just the right spot to blast his first hit since returning to the Cleveland lineup after being sidelined with spinal meningitis.

Cleveland's prize rookie Luis Tiant and the Los Angeles Angels' Bo Belinsky were deadlocked in a scoreless pitching duel entering the ninth inning Tuesday night.

But Alvis broke up the brilliant pitching match with his 13th homer of the season deep into the left center field bleachers. His blast scored Chico Salmon and Leon Wagner who beat out scratch hits off the Angels' southpaw.

Tiant then set the Angels down in the bottom of the ninth and picked up his fifth victory in six decisions and earned his second shutout, 3-0, allowing only four hits.

The Cuban fireballer didn't allow a base runner to reach third as he was in control of the game all the way. Belinsky was equally effective—until the ninth — as Salmon was the first base runner to reach third base. The fleet Panamanian beat out a grounder to shortstop Jim Fregosi leading off in the ninth. Dick Howser sacrificed him to second and Salmon went to third as Wagner got another infield hit.

This brought Angels' manager Bill Rigney out to the mound to talk with Belinsky. With his ace reliever Bob Lee warming up in the bullpen, Rigney decided to let Belinsky stay in the game. Alvis hit his first offering to give Cleveland its first victory over the Angels in eight games.

Vic Power was hit in the head by a Tiant pitch in the sixth inning and was removed from the game as a precautionary move. He was hit on the left side of his protective helmet but was able to walk off the field under his own power.

Hancock Whips Amvit On Home Run Attack

Hancock County Federal Savings & Loan Association bombed eight hits, including four home runs, to whip American Vitrified, 8-3, in the Chester City Softball League Tuesday.

Hitting round - trippers were John Fitzjohn, Bob Gessford, Evans and Eckstein. Evans was the winning pitcher, giving up five hits.

Owens hit a triple for the losers. Schoolcraft was the losing pitcher.

Majors Stick To Current Player Draft

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Fearing possible congressional action on the legality of a free agent draft, the majors leagues all but decided at a joint meeting Tuesday to stay with their present first-year player draft.

The free agent draft — such as the one employed by professional football in which all eligible college graduates are drafted first by the last place clubs and then up the line — appeared doomed following the meeting.

Commissioner Ford Frick said every possible draft system had been presented to the owners and their representatives by the draft committee, consisting of himself and Presidents Warren Giles of the National League and Joe Cronin of the American League.

Frick said, however, the feeling seemed to be that the clubs want to retain the first-year rule with possible amendments. The rule provides that during a player's first full year under contract he must be carried on the major league roster.

Although professional football has employed the free agent rule for years, Frick said baseball owners are still concerned over its legality and are not willing to risk congressional investigations by adopting the measure.

The clubs voted to cut fifth place teams into the World Series pool by taking 2 per cent off the top of the players' pool."

The plan was suggested by the players and would cost the players of the first four place teams approximately $15 each of their share. The plan goes into effect this year.

The league also approved a resolution asking Frick to remain on the job through the 1965 World Series. Last week Frick said he would not seek re-election after his contract expires in September 1965 and would step down whenever the new commissioner was elected.

A resolution also was adopted specifying that the contract of a major league player cannot be assigned to a lower classification five days prior to a major league draft.

10 Are Added To Football's Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten more names were added today to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame, including Earl H. Blaik, former coach at Dartmouth and Army who originated the lonely end formation.

The players honored were Charles O. Carroll, University of Washington halfback 1926-28; Ray R. Evans, Kansas University halfback 1941-42-46-47; Robert J. Herwig, University of California center 1935-37; Allison Hubert, University of Alabama fullback 1922-25; William N. Mallory, Yale University fullback 1921-23; William Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist University halfback 1948-50; W. Earl Sprackling, Brown University quarterback 1908-11; Langdon Lea, Princeton tackle, 1892-95; and Charles R. Rinehart, Lafayette guard, 1894-97.

Lea, Rinchart and Mallory are dead.

The football greats of yesteryear were selected by an honor court headed by Fred Russell, sports editor and vice-president of the Nashville Banner, and announced by Chester J. LaRoche, foundation president.

The selections bring the total of players in the Hall of Fame to 172, and coaches to 51.

The men will be formally inducted at the foundation's annual dinner here Dec. 8 when Donold B. Lourie, Princeton quarterback of 1919-21, will receive the foundation's gold medal award.

College football's Hall of Fame will be built at Rutgers, University, New Brunswick, N.J.

Blaik, now an executive of Avco Corp., had a record of 45 victories, 14 defeats and 5 ties in seven years at Dartmouth. At Army his teams compiled a mark of 121-33-10 from 1941 through 1958, winning the national championships in 1944 and 1945 when he had Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis in his backfield.

Coach Del Rice of the Los Angeles Angels played in 1,309 major league games as a catcher.

Not Producing Long Ball. Hitting Under .250

What Happened To Yank Power?

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Watching the New York Yankees these days makes an observer recall that advertising slogan with a slight variation:

"Wonder where that power went?"

This has to be the weakest Yankee hitting team in years. The club has a composite batting average of under .250, with Mickey Mantle the only .300 hitter. His average is .310.

Worse, it is not producing the long ball, a long-time Yankee trademark. It is almost unbelievable, but true, that six of the nine other American League clubs top the Yanks in home runs. Such a phenomenon hasn't occurred in 45 years, or since Babe Ruth joined the organization.

The normally weak-hitting White Sox of Chicago added insult to injury Tuesday by outhomering the Yankees as they swept both ends of a day-night twin bill 6-4 and 8-2. The double loss, the Yankees' fourth and fifth in their last six games, buried them deeper in third place, 3½ games behind the front-running Baltimore Orioles and 2½ behind the White Sox.

Chicago hit four homers to two by the Yankees.

"It's the law of averages," said White Sox Manager Al Lopez. "The Yankees beat us 10 straight and we were long overdue. I've been around long enough to know that everything evens up in the long run."

The Yanks have looked drab and dismal in recent days. Normally a fine defensive club, they committed two errors in each game to go along with their 11 hits.

The pitching, with Whitey Ford out indefinitely because of a hip injury, is uncertain and undermanned. Manager Yogi Berra is in such a pinch for pitching, he was forced to dig into the club's Richmond farm for help.

Mel Stottlemyre, called up Tuesday, was immediately nominated to start against the White Sox today.

"The club is down," said Berra. "We're not tired. We're just in a rut. We're just not hitting. We can't seem to get that big inning. We picked a heck of a time to go into a slump."

The Yankees have more than 50 games left to play. But with two teams in front of them, neither of which they play after Aug. 20, it looks like a long uphill climb.

They just don't seem to have enough—pitching, or the sock to make up for it.

Lima's Victory Still Recalled By DiSalle

Michael V. DiSalle, author of the following, is a former Toledo mayor, and governor of Ohio. Currently he is a practicing attorney in Columbus.

By MIKE DISALLE
For The Associated Press

How can one, who has been actively interested in athletics, not only as a participant but as a fan, select one moment above others as the one possessing the greatest sports thrill?

Would it be the first time I accidentally hit a baseball as a first grader at Jefferson School in Toledo—or would it be the time I started playing in my first high school football game—or closing my eyes and sinking a long basket in the closing seconds of a hotly contested neighborhood game?

Would it be watching Georgetown, as underdogs, in Yankee stadium meeting a highly touted New York University football team and completely botting up the famed Ken Strong.

It could be a World Series game, or even sinking a long putt on the 18th green, or the second shot for an eagle on a 400-yard par 4 hole.

But I suppose the greatest sports thrill of my life came at the end of an exciting baseball season. In 1939 I was president of the Lima baseball team in the Ohio State League. A group of rather young but risk-taking entepreneurs took a franchise, built a stadium, put in lights and began to recruit a baseball team.

More than 100 would-be-greats reported for the first workouts at the Lima Y.M.C.A. Class D ball clubs didn't go south for spring training. Many youngsters returning from early cuts at spring training camps in the south stopped off at Lima.

The season opened with Lima losing seven games in a row. After winning one, we lost 14 more. So, with the season well under way, we stood one win—21 losses. Many changes were being made. We had the traditional ball club—one there, one leaving, one coming in.

Finally, with Lefty Settlemyer, the former Red Sox pitcher, managing the club, Lima began to click. The New York Yankees helped with a couple of players. Lefty Biscan was cut by Mayfield and reported to Lima. Harlan Kiersey, killed two years later in World War II, reported as a brilliant third baseman from the U. of Missouri.

On the last day of the season, Lima tied Chappy Geygan's Fremont club for fourth place and a chance at the playoffs. In a sudden death single game, Lima came from behind to win a spot in the playoffs.

In the playoff semi-finals in the last inning of the last game, Lima beat Grover Hartley's Findlay club.

The big thrill came in the final game in the final section of the playoffs. Lima was playing Dewey Stover's Mansfield club, and the series was tied at three victories each.

In the ninth inning of the final game, Lima was behind, 3 to 2, and Herb Wooden was at bat with the bases loaded. Herb was Lima's cleanup man and heaviest hitter. With the count three-and-two, he got hold of a pitch and hit a line drive to center—too sharp to be reached by Hank Edwards who later became a Cleveland star. Three runs raced home and Lima won the championship.

It wasn't a World Series. World War II intervened shortly thereafter and prevented most of the boys who played in the Ohio State League from going to the majors.

But it had been a long up-hill season, and the final truth had become greater than fiction. Who would believe that a club could "win it all" after losing 21 of the first 22 games?

Anyway, the sound of Wooden's bat hitting that ball was possibly my greatest sports thrill—and one I'll never forget.

Brown Slated For Limited Duty In Game

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — The unsinkable Jimmy Brown, who has been practically immune from injury for seven years, may be used only part time when the Cleveland Browns meet the Los Angeles Rams in an exhibition game Saturday night.

The big fullback has sore back muscles from summer training at Hiram and aggravated them during the Browns exhibition Game Sunday in San Francisco.

Brown takes a daily dip in a motel pool here to ease the muscles back into shape. A final decision on his condition will have to come from trainer Leo Murphy, who suggested to head Coach Blanton Collier that Jim be pulled from the 49ers game.

Brown, the National Football League-leading ground - gainer for six straight seasons, has never missed starting a game since taking over as fullback in 1957.

Another injured veteran is flanker Gary Collins. He suffered a bruised and cut hand in a collision with a photographer before the 49ers game and has a tender right shoulder from tackling Kermit Alexander on a punt return in the first quarter.

Aside from the injuries, Collier has to make a decision on trimming the 51-man squad to 40 before the regular season opens Sept. 13 in Washington.

A number of first-year men will get a good look from coaches Saturday.

"That's the only way we can make a decision on some of these fellows," Collier said. "Eleven players must go. We learned some things about them and their ability to execute in San Francisco.

"We're looking for more information. Several who seem to do well in one phase didn't maintain the standard on some of the units, like punting and kick-off teams."

There is a possibility that Collier may get his first look at linebacker Billy Truax of Louisiana State under game conditions. The 6-foot-5, 245-pounder suffered a torn hamstring last month and worked out Tuesday for the first time in full equipment. Collier feels he has the potential to make good in pro football.

The president named Chuck Wynn and Claude Ruckman as publicity co-chairmen.

Next meeting is Oct. 4 at 2 p. m. at the YMCA.

Ten Presidents of the United States could trace their ancestry to Northern Ireland.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Pete Ward, White Sox, slammed a homer and five singles in 6-4, 8-2 doubleheader sweep over the New York Yankees that moved Chicago to within one game of American League leading Baltimore.

PITCHING — Luis Tiant, Indians, brought his record to 5-1 with a four-hit, 3-0 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

Suggested He Be Traded

Browns To Retain Brown Despite Graham's Advice

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will retain the services of Jim Brown at fullback despite the advice of former Cleveland quarterback Otto Graham.

Graham suggested Tuesday at a luncheon in Canton, Ohio, that Brown should be traded because of failure to block or fake.

Cleveland Coach Balton Collier and owner Arthur Modell reacted as if Graham had asked them to sell their children into slavery. Brown took it like a slap on the shoulder pad by a 180-pound defensive back.

"I feel that this isn't important because Otto has no connection with pro football or the Browns," said Brown. "I feel this is just like a statement from any football fan, and any fan has a right to his opinion."

Graham had conceded that Brown is a "great athlete and he could block, but he doesn't. This is ridiculous.

"The Browns will not win anything as long as Brown is in there. Now chew on that for a while," Graham told about 150 people at a National Football League Hall of fame gathering.

"It is obvious that Otto Graham is not the coach of the Browns," said Modell of the man who coaches the Coast Guard Academy. "The charge that Jim doesn't fake is ridiculous."

Joseph Krizan was named as temporary chairman of a new bowling league being formed by South Side American Legion Post 952 at an organization meeting Monday night.

Final plans and election of officers will be made at the next meeting Aug. 31, at the post at Hookstown.

Krizan said a few bowlers are still needed to complete rosters, and anyone interested should contact him.

Tribe To Drop Its Operation At Charleston

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians will discontinue operation of their Eastern Baseball League farm club in Charleston after the current season.

Gabe Paul, president of the Indians, said the move resulted from an apparent lack of interest in the Charleston Indians games.

He also blamed a decision by the Charleston Daily Mail to reduce coverage of the team next season and drop the newspaper's role as official game score keeper.

Paul said he has notified Rankin Johnson, president of the six-team Class AA league, that Cleveland plans to locate its franchise in another city for the 1965 season.

Cleveland moved the team to Charleston from Reading in 1961.

Johnson Helps, Too

Robinson, Jay Team Up As Reds Down Dodgers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Robinson and Joe Jay got together Tuesday night, 1961 style, and with some additional help from newcomer Deron Johnson the Cincinnati Reds trounced Los Angeles, 4-2.

Robinson hit a double, a triple and a home run, and Johnson also chipped in with a homer while Jay boosted his record to 8-8 by striking out everybody in the lineup—13 Dodger batsmen in all. He allowed seven hits.

The big righthander admitted striking out 13 batters was "unusual" for him, and added with tongue-in-cheek:

"I really would rather not strike out so many batters. It's too hard work.

"I was forced, because of my wildness, to throw fat strikes. So, I just let loose with fast balls and an occasional slider or curve threw the batter off. That really was the reason for 13 strikeouts."

Jay said he thought it was the first time he had struck out so many batters in major league play. He said he believed he may have struck out 14 hitters once in Class AA ball.

With Phil Ortega trying to improve his 4-4 standing, the Dodgers went ahead in the second inning when Maury Wills singled two runners across the plate.

Robinson got one of the runs back with his 21st home run when Cincinnati had its turn at bat in the same inning. The Reds moved ahead in the fourth inning on Robinson's triple and Johnson's 16th home run over the center field fence.

The Reds scored their fourth run in the eight. Pete Rose singled, and pinch hitter Tommy Harper reached first when Ron Perranoski threw too late to second on his sacrifice bunt. Vada Pinson forced Harper, but Rose scored when relief pitcher Perranoski threw wild to first trying to pick off the Reds centerfielder.

The teams wind up the Dodgers' appearance in Cincinnati for 1964 tonight. Jimmy O'Toole, 12-4, will go for Cincinnati against Sandy Koufax, 17-5. The game will follow a birthday celebration for Reds Manager Fred Hutchinson, who is 45 today.

Gary Bradds Denies Signing With Bullets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's Gary Bradds, 1964's college basketball "Player of the Year," says he has resigned from a teaching post he accepted last Saturday but denies he has signed with the professional Baltimore Bullets.

Bradds said Tuesday night he resigned the physical education instructor's post at Ferguson Junior High School in Greene County because "I wasn't sure what I was going to do." But he said he has not signed with the Bullets, which made him its No.1 draft choice.

Toss-Up In IL Seen Between Suns, Syracuse

By The Associated Press

It's a toss-up in the International League between Jacksonville and Syracuse. The way they come out each day seems to determine the league leader.

The Suns swept a doubleheader, 6-1 and 7-2, from Rochester Tuesday night and recaptured first place as Syracuse dropped their single game to Columbus, 6-2.

It all began when Syracuse swept a five-game series from Jacksonville two weeks ago in Syracuse and climbed into first place. Then, the Suns caught Syracuse on their Florida home grounds and climbed back on top of the pack only to slip into second place again a few days later.

Now, the Suns have fought their way back on top and have a one-game lead.

In other games, Richmond shut out Rochester 5-0 and Toronto whipped Atlanta 9-4.

Earl Francis pitched and batted Columbus over Syracuse. The 29-year - old right-hander held the Chiefs to four hits and two unearned runs and came up with a run-scoring single that put the Jets ahead to stay.

Player Sings National Anthem Before Game

CINCINNATI (AP) — It is usual that someone sings the National Anthem just before the start of a baseball game in Cincinnati.

It was unusual to have a ballplayer do the singing, as Nate Oliver of the Los Angeles Dodgers did Tuesday night.

The Dodgers' second baseman sang so beautifully that each time he came to bat during the game the fans followed up their original applause with more. Oliver hit safely once in four turns at bat and scored one of the runs as Los Angeles lost, 4-2.

Ohio Farmer, 49, Captures Crown In World Horseshoe

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Harold Reno, a 49-year-old farmer from Sabina, Ohio, captured the World Horseshoe Championship Tuesday night when he beat defending champion John Monasmith of Yakima, Wash., in the next to last game.

Reno finished up with a 32 games won, 3 games lost record and an 84.1 ringer percentage.

The deciding game was the 34th. Reno, who won the championship in 1961, clinched the title by defeating Monasmith, 52-49.

Carl Steinfeldt, the top qualifier in the championship flight of 36, finished second with a 30-5 won-lost record and an 83.3 ringer percentage.

The final positions are decided on the won-lost records. In case of ties, however, the man with the higher ringer percentage is given the higher position.

Here's how the other leaders finished.

Glen Henton, Maquoketa, Iowa, 29-6, 83.93 per cent.

Elmer Hohl, Wellesley, Ont., 29-6, 83.92 per cent.

Curt Day, Frankfort, Ind., 28-7, 84.4 per cent.

Ray Martin, Philo, Ill., 28-7, 83.2 per cent.

Floyd Toole, Pine Bluff, Ark., 28-7, 82.0 per cent.

Albert Zadroga, Elizabeth, Pa., 26-9, 81.0 per cent.

Monasmith ended up with a 25-10 record.

Before Reno clinched the championship, he lost a game to Edward Fishel of Neilton, Wash. 50-28. At one point in the tournament Reno had a 20-game winning streak going but it was broken by a loss Monday night.

Dayton Minister Again Named As Unit President

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Church of God Campground Association's president for the coming year again will be the Rev. Francis Jolliff of Dayton.

The Rev. Mr. Jolliff was re-elected to a second one-year term Tuesday at a business session in connection with the annual camp meeting west of here which runs through Sunday.

Also re-elected were the Rev. Joe Smith of Ansonia, vice president; the Rev. Carson Reynolds of Xenia, secretary; Bert Blocher of Springfield, treasurer, and the Rev. George Reed of Fairborn to another three-year term on the board of trustees.

Newly elected trustees are the Rev. Clifford Corns of Dayton and the Rev. Louis Thomas of Findlay, who will serve three-year terms. The Rev. Vern Mattox of West Liberty was named a trustee for one year to complete the unexpired term of the Rev. Ted Rigdon, who has left Ohio.

Ceylon's Newspapers Face New Controls

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Ceylon's press faces new controls aimed at curbing concentration of newspaper ownership and criticism of the government.

Prime Minister Sirimavo Banderanaike approved Tuesday the establishment of a press council and tribunal to carry out the recommendations of a three-man study commission.

Session Fails To End Walkout

CINCINNATI (AP)—An eight-hour session with a federal mediator Tuesday failed to bring an end to the Raymond Bag Co. strike.

Mediator James Bentley said the talks broke down on a return-to-work schedule for 260 striking members of Local 310 of the AFL - CIO International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers.

The strike began July 21 over proposed work rules changes which the company says are necessary if Raymond wants to remain competitive in the paper bag industry.

Violence erupted several times between union pickets and workers hired since the strike began. A Butler County Common Pleas Court injunction last week limited the number of pickets to 10 and a heavy police guard was posted outside the plant.

Soviet Skipper Says Skill Avoided Crash

MOSCOW (AP) — The skipper of the Soviet cruise ship Gruzia says only the skill of his sailors prevented a collision with the U.S. destroyer Kretchmer on a trip to Cuba.

"There was a moment when a collision with the U.S. destroyer seemed inevitable," Capt. T. Makatsaiy was quoted as saying in the government newspaper Izvestia Tuesday. "Many of the U.S. sailors rushed on deck wearing lifejackets."

The captain also said the Gruzia was buzzed several times by U.S. planes.

Dayton Woman Faces Court For Slaying Children

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A 27-year-old Dayton woman was to appear in Common Pleas Court to be arraigned on four counts of first-degree murder in the slayings of her four young children.

The charges were formally filed against Mrs. Betty Lou Perry Tuesday by Dayton police. She has been in the Dayton State Hospital since the slayings the night of July 24.

She was to be brought before Judge Robert L. McBride today, who is expected to send her to Lima State Hospital for a 30-day observation period.

Her children — Stacey, 10 months; Carl 3, Scott, 4, and Susan, 6, were found smothered in their beds. Plastic bags had been tied over their heads and a pillow was over each face.

Police quoted Mrs. Perry who has been separated from her husband for some time, as saying she killed the children because she was despondent over financial problems and a pending divorce.

Violence Flares In Jersey Cities

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — Negroes in Paterson and both Negro and white youths in Elizabeth went on violent sprees Tuesday night in which gasoline bombs, rocks and empty bottles were hurled, store windows smashed and one store was looted.

The outbreaks began first in Paterson and, as order was restored there, flared up in Elizabeth. Both are major industrial cities in northeastern New Jersey.

Elizabeth police said three cars carrying white youths careened through the streets of a predominantly Negro neighborhood, tossing bottles. Negroes smashed a tavern window, police said, and a Negro man was charged with looting.

Paterson Mayor Frank X. Graves said today, "We have every reason to believe there will be further trouble. We are prepared for further trouble tonight."

In Elizabeth, acting Police Director Michael D. Roy said he did not believe the disturbances were racially motivated, but were the work of "a group of young guys out for a lark."

Police appeared to be in control in both cities.

Twelve separate incidents were reported in Paterson. At least three store windows were smashed.

Mayor Graves said a dozen Negro youths boarded a bus and smashed its windows.

Two fires were started in Elizabeth firms with gasoline bombs and a third was started under the front porch of a white residents' home facing an integrated public housing project. One store was looted.

No serious injuries were reported in either city.

Four persons were arrested in Elizabeth. A Negro man was accused of looting a clothing store and three white youths were arrested after they allegedly threw a bottle from a car. A Negro man was arrested in Paterson on a disorderly persons charge.

Paterson is about 15 miles west of New York City and Elizabeth is 20 miles south of Paterson.

Police said the trouble in Elizabeth began at 11:30 p.m. when a gasoline bomb burst on the sidewalk outside a closed tavern.

As three fire engines roared to the scene, a second gasoline bomb crashed through the window of the tavern and started a small fire.

A short time later another bomb was thrown through the window of a Spanish-American grocery. There was no fire.

Down the street a clothing store was broken into and the owner said some suits were taken.

Fifty Elizabeth policemen sped to the area and dispersed about 200 Negroes. Police then turned their attention to youths roaming in cars.

Vote On Park Issue Banned

ceptance of the petitions, provided they complied with the law in all other respects.

The deadline for filing of most issues for Nov. 3 ballot places fell last Wednesday, Aug. 5, but the board had received opinions from the two officials that the Jaycee issue could be accepted as late as 40 days prior to the election, provided it complied with the law in other respects.

Jaycees Plan New Try With Petitions

Dale Kidd, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said today petitions will be circulated again in efforts to obtain enough signatures for a ballot place for the City Park Commission proposal.

The Jaycees expect to file their new petitions before the deadline of Sept. 25 to win a place for the issue on the general election ballot Nov. 3.

The law under which the Jaycee proposition was filed contained no deadline for entering the petitions. In other such instances, courts have held that an issue can be filed within a "reasonable time" prior to the election and have set 40 days prior to an election as "a reasonable time."

—:—

HAD THE issue gained a ballot place, East Liverpool would have voted on the question of establishing a new municipal park commission that would have taken over administration of all city park properties. State law requires such a commission can be established only by a vote of the people.

Jaycees, as a civic project, had volunteered to circulate the petitions seeking a ballot place for the issue.

In other business yesterday, the Election Board granted a contract to the Wellsville Publishing Co. of Wellsville to furnish ballots for the general election on its low bid of $8,150.35. The only other bidder was the Dodge Publishing Co., Inc., of Salem, which filed an offer of $9,322.87.

—:—

THE WELLSVILLE concern's proposal included a stipulation that it will charge $18.45 per 1,000 for any ballots that were not listed in the specifications on which it bid. Dodge asked prices ranging from $15 to $40 per 1,000 for the additional ballots. It stipulated a discount of 25 per cent on charges for any ballot in which two issues were combined on a single ticket.

The Election Board said 10 to 15 special issues and questions were not filed at the time it issued its specifications to the job printers.

The board approved appointment of precinct personnel for one-year terms. They will serve at the November general election and the primaries next May. Six judges and clerks serve in each of the 165 precinct polling places. The board followed the recommendations of party central committees, wherever possible, in making the appointments, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

—:—

PRECINCT personnel now serving will be utilized for the special election Sept. 15 in the East Liverpool School District on a proposal for a building program and interest-free loan from the state.

O'Hanlon said all preparations are complete for the school district's special election.

The board gave its sanction to a plan to print the purpose of the school issue in bold face type on the ballot — utilizing type twice the size of the rest of the type on the ballot. The secretary of state's office had recommended use of the bold face type in explaining the issue, the board said.

The board tentatively approved plans for schools of instruction to be held in six or seven communities prior to the general election to familiarize precinct personnel with procedures.

Ballot places were granted to nine additional questions and issues. The board authorized O'Hanlon to accept any additional issues that are filed, provided they comply with the law.

Salem Youth Cited; Girl Hurt In Wreck

A Salem teen-ager was cited into Juvenile Court after an accident Tuesday afternoon in which a girl companion was thrown from the careening car, the State Highway Patrol reported.

Sidney M. Wilson, 17, of R. D. 1 was cited. JoAnn Reyonlds, 16, of Beloit R. D. 2 suffered a possible fractured shoulder and lacerations of the left wrist and right foot. She was taken to Alliance City Hospital.

The patrol said Wlison was headed north on Township Rd. 717, south of Route 62, and was rounding a curve when his car went off the left side and then crossed back to the right and struck a tree.

While the car was careening across the highway, the right door opened and Miss Reynolds fell out, the patrol said.

George Susce, coach with the Washington Senators, caught 17 games as a National League rookie with Philadelphia in 1929. He ended his catching career with Cleveland in 1944.

Assault Hearing Reset To Aug. 20

A hearing for a Chester man accused of assault and battery by an East End man after he allegedly was struck Saturday night on Mulberry St. was continued today in Municipal Court until Aug. 20.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff granted the continuance on the charge against Carl Amedeo after the court was notified the complaining witness, Kenneth Alloway Jr., 1012 Locust St., was out-of-town.

Amedeo's $207.50 bond was released and he was freed on his own continuance.

Alloway was treated at City Hospital after allegedly being struck by Amedeo.

Police were called to Mulberry St. Saturday night by a report of a fight. They said Alloway, who was bleeding from the face, told them he had been struck by a Chester man who asked him to step outside a tavern and then hit him without provocation.

Visits In Salem Area

County Host To Korea Farm Youth 'Student'

LISBON — Korean Farmer Dong-Ho Shur, 26, arrived in Columbiana County today to stay with Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold McCullough of Salem R.D. 2 until Sept. 5.

A graduate of Seoul University, Shur has lived in a 10-acre general farm for 20 years. He served four years as the leader of a Korean 4-H Club.

He is in this country under the International Farm Youth Exchange program. He lived with families in Missouri this spring and summer, and will visit other Ohio Farm families before returning to Korea in November.

Robert B. Lewis, county 4-H Agent, said Columbiana County has been host to 12 IFYE's since the program began in 1948.

He said the program is an exchange of young farm people between 20 and 30 years of age. This year 110 United States delegates will be exchanged for 115 delegates from 42 countries. They live with host families from two to four weeks.

Each delegate will travel about 20,000 miles, give approximately 100 talks to audiences totaling 8,200 people, make 11 radio broadcasts and be the subject of 40 news articles, Lewis said. The cost of a two-way exchange amounts to about $3,700 and is financed by private contributors.

The national committee on boys and girls 4-H club work and the Co-operative Extension Service of state universities sponsor the program to promote better world understanding.

Schools Set Time Change At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Local schools will return to Eastern Standard Time at the end of September, the Board of Education has decided, although the city itself will remain on Daylight Saving Time until Oct. 31.

Supt. H. S. Laber said the action in returning schools to "slow time" was prompted by the "interest of safety of school bus students."

"Members of the board are aware of the inconvenience in October, but feel the safety of pupils is the predominant factor," Supt. Laber said. East Palestine schools open for the 1964-65 term Sept. 9.

The board has awarded a contract to Daugherty & Mitchell, Inc., of Youngstown for installation of a new gas furnace at Unity School on its low bid of $4,178.

The Joseph Dickey Electric Co. of North Lima has been awarded a contract for installation of new lighting fixtures in the high school gymnasium at a cost of $2,835.

Mrs. Grace Sprout has resigned as kindergarten teacher, and the board hired Ronald Novac of Struthers as junior high science teacher and Miss Adaline Musselman of Rogers as elementary teacher.

Onion is a "must" in potato salad; it's also good in cole slaw. Strips of pimiento will enliven both varieties of salad.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 28 years old and have a good job in a department store. Since I was a kid I've had a bad limp which has made me self-conscious. I wasn't able to work up the nerve to ask a girl for a date until I was 20 years old.

Last year I began to take out a girl who works in the store. Bernice gave me a lot of confidence in myself. Until I met her I never thought I was interesting enough to hold a girl's attention.

Bernice is 24, has been married and divorced. She is full of pep, good company and says she is crazy about me. I gave her a diamond engagement ring for Valentine's Day and we plan to be married in October.

Lately I've been hearing a lot of talk about Bernice and the floor walker, Bernice and the shoe buyer, Bernice and the window trimmer, to name just a few. She has told me several lies and now I see other things that didn't add up.

I'm afraid to have a showdown for fear she will break off with me. I couldn't take that. I'm hoping she will settle down after marriage. Any advice? — HOPING.

Dear Hoping: Bernice isn't playing it straight and you know it. Better to face reality now than to marry the girl and wonder where she is — and with whom.

In the department store business there's an old adage — "The first mark - down is the cheapest." This adage applies to people as well as merchandise.

Teasing Brother

Dear Ann: My 17 - year - old brother teases me because I'm a steady reader of your column.

He says only oddballs read Ann Landers — that something has to be wrong with a person who wants to read about other people's problems. According to him it's like peeking through a keyhold.

He also says there is something sadistic about people who enjoy reading about trouble all the time. He pointed out that last week you wrote about a deaf-and-dumb beggar, a mean mother-in-law, a retarded child and a little kid who had to wear second-hand clothes.

What shall I say to my brother when he teases me about reading your column? I surely would appreciate it if you could supply me with a good answer. — LANDERS FAN AND PROUD OF IT.

-:-

Dear Proud Fan: The next time your brother needles you about reading my column ask him how come he knows everything that's in it?

Extra Duty?

Dear Ann: I'm a 44-year-old divorcee and much too old for this sort of problem.

I accepted a job as a receptionist, secretary and bookkeeper for a friend who has had severe financial reverses. I'm working at a fraction of my former salary because I want to help him get on his feet. The man has a lovely wife and family and he truly deserves a break.

Our most important customer is an octopus. He comes in several times a week, follows me around the office like a puppy dog, and makes passes left and right. The louse is getting bolder and bolder by the day and I'm sick of it.

If he weren't so important to the business I'd give him a crack in the mouth and call it a day, but we need his account.

How can I get him to leave me alone and still keep him friendly — at the business level? — TIRED OF RUNNING AROUND THE DESK.

Dear Tired of Running: If the entire future of the business hinges on the account of this eight-handed idiot you might as well lock the door NOW.

The man didn't give the firm his account because of you — and he probably will not take his account away if you chill him. So go ahead —and let the teeth fall where they may.

Ann Landers will ge glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I renew checked or "crazed" varnished or lacquered surface on furniture?

A. — This can often be done simply by using a pad of fine steel wool dipped in rottenstone paste. Rub until the surface is smooth to the touch, then wipe off with a rag dipped into thinner, apply two coats of wax, and buff it down.

Whistling's Restful, Trio Lively

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

In the mood for music as easy on the ears as Jackie Gleason instrumentals or Bing Crosby's ba-ba-ba-boo? Then try Muzzy Marcellino's "Whistling on the Beach at Waikiki." (Coral)

Muzzy Marcellino is known to daytime radio and TV listeners because he is musical director of Art Linkletter's "House Party."

He also whistles, and dubbed the whistling in the movie and best-selling record, "The High and the Mighty."

That song is included on this album. The rest of the songs are Hawaiian — "Hawaiian Wedding Song," the cheerful "The Hukilau Song," "Song of the Islands," "Aloha Oe," etc.

This isn't amateur night, with trilling stunts of virtuosity; it's calm and relaxed enough for background music, melodic and interesting enough to concentrate and listen to.

A GOOD lively live recording is the two-LP let, "Peter, Paul and Mary in Concert." (Warner Brothers)

If you're a fan of this top urban-folk trio, you'll enjoy this because it has some new material and if you don't have a P-P-&-M album, this is a dandy one to get.

They sing some of their hits—"Blowin' in the Wind," "If I Had a Hammer," "Puff (the Magic Dragon)." They're good when they're serious — "One Kind Favor;" they're good when they're funny — Paul does a hilarous monologue. And they generate almost as much fun with a sing-along "Rocka My Soul" as Harry Belafonte does with "Matilda."

SOME MORE of our adult singers are singing for the kids. Dean Martin's new album, "Everybody Loves Somebody," begins with the top-10 single and Frank Sinatra and County Basie's new "It Might As Well Be Swing," includes "I Can't Stop Loving You." (both Reprise) Ella Fitzgerald's new "Hello Dolly!" album has her doing "Can't Buy Me Love." (Verve)

We feel like the women in "Li'l Abner" when they sang "Put 'Em Back the Way They Was." But we can't really argue with the market — us old folks just don't buy enough records.

From the 1930's, there are two new releases — "The Young Chevalier" (Capitol) and "Garbo!" (MGM).

This is the music hall Chevalier, songs all in French and none of his trademark songs like "Louise" and "Mimi."

One song, "Dites-Moi, Ma Mere," must have been recorded in the very early '30s; the voice is fast and anonymous, jerking along like an early film.

But the rest are Chevalier at his jaunty best. The music is so appealing that this album has much more than nostalgia value.

DRAMATIC scenes from movie soundtracks (1930-39) make up "Garbo!" Reproduction is good, but occasionally scratchy enough to remind the listener that it really is from 30 years ago. Garbo plays opposite Melvyn Douglas, John Gilbert, the young voices of Robert Taylor and Clark Gable.

Her own voice has great emotional depth. We couldn't believe how much she put into "I don't even know your name," said to John Barrymore in "Grand Hotel," and had to play it again.

An LP titled "America, I Hear You Singing," (Reprise) sings praise of America without getting sticky sentimental. Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, sometimes joined by Bing Crosby or Frank Sinatra or both, sing such lovely things as "The Hills of Home," "This Land is Your Land" and "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor."

The two official children's albums from the World's Fair are "Jump to New York on a Pogo Stick" and "Hop to the Fair." (Pied Piper) Each of these is three seven-inch flexible 33 1-3 r.p.m. records with grooves on one side. Each disc weighs ⅛ of an ounce; each contains two or three little songs written by Ruth and Russ Alben of New York.

Spanish War Vets Recall '98 Landing

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Archie House, who was only 16 when he joined Company I of the 33rd Michigan Volunteers and sailed for Cuba to help fight the Spanish - American War, recently recalled his landing near Siboney.

The greatest danger wasn't enemy bullets, he said, but his own equipment.

"It was June 27," House said. "It was hot, maybe 90 degrees. We landed wearing long underwear, heavy blue woolen jackets and trousers, leggings that came up to your knees over the trousers. We had the Springfield 45-70—it carried a bullet so big they used to call it the light artillery, that rifle. It'd kick you over a 10-rail fence."

Each man, he said, carried a 50-pound pack and ammunition belts holding 40 to 50 rounds of the finger-sized bullets.

House is national commander of the 18,000 surviving veterans of that war.

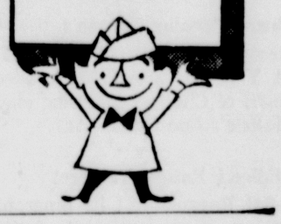

Fragile-looking sea anemones have been brought to the surface from depths of 33,462 feet. The flower - like animals survive and even thrive at such depths, because their internal pressure equals the external pressure of the water. When brought to the surface, the animals usually die.

Ian Fleming, Noted English Author, Dies

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — Ian Lancaster Fleming, creator of the fictional secret agent James Bond, died today from a heart attack. He was 56.

A newspaperman who turned author, Fleming was one of the world's biggest money-making writers. In addition to his numerous books, he also collected large sums from two movies, "Dr. No," and "From Russia With Love." A third film, "Goldfinger" has just been completed.

Lisbon Youth Convicted In Long Hearing

LISBON — Larry Lutz, 18, was convicted of charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest at a four-hour hearing Tuesday night in Mayor's court.

Mayor Dean Stockman withheld sentencing pending results of a hearing on a third charge —loitering — at 8 tonight in the Village Hall.

Over 75 persons, half of them juveniles and friends of the defendant, crowded Council Chambers and spread into the hallway.

Mayor Stockman told spectators he would permit no disturbance and police were there to remove anyone who might cause trouble.

Police Sgt. Kenneth McKenzie testified he had orders to break up loitering after midnight around the Shell Service Station corner on W. Lincoln Way. He said he told the defendant and several companions they would not be permitted to hang around the station anymore and he would have to arrest them if they did.

The officer said he found the boys there at 3 the next morning—Aug.5—and had to hit Lutz and Charles Hutcheson, 19, when they resisted arrest, called him bad names and defied him to carry out the arrest.

Both youths received contusions of the head and Lutz was hospitalized one day for X-rays.

Hutcheson was on furlough from the Army. Charges against him were dropped when he returned to his station the following day.

Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi questioned Ronald Tafini, the service station attendant, who substantiated McKenzie's account.

Atty. Howard Cope, defense counsel, questioned the defendant and two companions who were at the station — Calvin Rice and Donald Davis, both of Lisbon.

The defense claim was that the four youths were washing a car, not loitering, and police had no right to arrest them. They said they had been riding around in Rice's car until 3 a.m. Lutz admitted he had been warned the night before.

Mrs. Lillian Rogers, Common Pleas Court shorthand reporter, took a record of the proceedings.

Lisbon Board Grants Leave

LISBON — The Board of Education Tuesday granted a one-year leave of absence to Mrs. Louise Jones, opened bids for bus, milk and bread service, and approved payment of July bills totaling $42,951.

Mrs. Jones, a kindergarten teacher, asked for a leave for health reasons.

Mac's Shell Service was low bidder for bus service while the bus insurance contract with Nationwide Insurance was renewed.

Schweel Bakery got the bread service contract and Purity Dairy the milk contract. Isaly's Dairy and Beverly Farms had bids identical with Purity.

Permission was given Fr. William Hohman of St. George's Catholic Church to use school facilities Saturday mornings for Church School.

Supt. Oliver J. Payne reported on the summer maintenance and repair program.

The board appointed William Haifley to attend the Ohio School Boards Association annual business meeting Nov. 11 at the Veterans Memorial Building in Columbus. Dr. Wade A. Bacon, president, is alternate.

Discussion was held on the club's Junior Olympics scheduled for Aug. 19-21 at Wellsville playgrounds. Several members were appointed to direct the activities at the various playlots.

Next meeting will be Tuesday at 6 p. m. at the home of George Wilson, president, on Springhill Rd. A corn roast and "Ladies Night" will be featured, along with a general roundtable discussion of Kiwanis activities.

To make zesty croutons to add to green salads, brown and crisp them in garlic - flavored olive oil.

Calcutta Firemen's Carnival Will Open Monday For Week

Plans were advanced for the annual carnival beginning Monday when Calcutta volunteer firemen met Monday night in the fire hall, with 18 present.

Heck's Amusements will furnish rides and other midway attractions for the carnival all next week near the fire hall. Firemen will operate four concessions and the ticket booths, and the auxiliary will be in charge of a food pavilion, assisted by the men.

There will be free entertainment each night, and the program will be: Aug. 18 — water battle between Calcutta and local challengers; Tuesday — Ronnie Boston's "Swinging Sweethearts;" Aug. 20—students from the Larry Meyers dance studio; Aug. 21 — Ohio Valley Boys, radio and television performers, and Aug. 22 — a shooting match by deputies from the Columbiana County sheriff's office, including Ronnie Gause and Robert McAbee.

Raymond Dunn reported there is room in the fire hall for exhibits of 20 merchants, with admission to be free. Most of the space is filled.

John Thompson said sale of advanced tickets is picking up, and are at half-price for carnival rides.

Howard Hickman mowed the carnival grounds Tuesday night. Paul Knox is to install a water line under the road to the cooking pavilion. Firemen also cleaned the fire hall, brought equipment out of storage, and started repairs on the public address system.

The regional county fire school will be held Oct. 18 and Oct. 25 at the Orchard Hill School in Leetonia. There will be a three-hour course on home fires, three hours on fire salvage and six hours on general rescue work. Registration must be made by Oct. 13 for the school, sponsored by the Columbiana County Firemen's Association.

Norman Neal presided. Dale Horger is president.

Call Expected In November If Assembly Meets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Ohio's 105th General Assembly is to meet one more time before it expires Dec. 31, the call probably will come shortly before Thanksgiving.

That's the opinion of Gov. James A. Rhodes' top aide, John M. McElroy. Rhodes, who is in Pennsylvania today to huddle with top Republican Party leaders, has had no comment.

McElroy, who has made no secret of his opinion that state lawmakers ought to act on the U.S. Supreme Court's reapportionment decision before 1965, said knotty problems could take a special session on into December.

Last year, the legislature came back in an extension of its regular biennial session last December to clean up unfinished business. A special session such as the one presently proposed, however, must be called by the governor and can discuss only those topics he specifies.

The 106th General Assembly will be elected in the Nov. 3 general election. The technical question has been raised by McElroy and others if it will be a legally constituted body as the result of the court's decision on equalization of representation.

Hancock Melons, Peaches Ripen

Table fare for late summer in Hancock County will include tree - ripened peaches, home-grown muskmelons and watermelons, sweet corn, tomatoes and new potatoes, Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, reports.

"Early peaches are coloring and should be on the market this week, with muskmelons and watermelons on the way," Johnson said.

"Our growers specialize in the icebox - size melons that are usually short on seeds." He estimated arrival on the market of the melons in two weeks.

Tomatoes and new potatoes are plentiful. He advised county residents to ask for "Irish Cobbler" potatoes instead of red ones. "A little later, Katadins and Kennebecs will be good," the agricultural agent reported.

Shriners Receive Activity Report

The East Liverpool Shrine Club heard reports from chairmen on recent activities at a meeting Monday night at the Casting Club, with 50 present.

Lester Smith reported on the Tri - State dance, Al Ferguson on the trip to New York City, and Charles Allison on the Field Day.

Paul E. Taylor, president, announced there will be a Halloween dance Oct. 31. Earl Roush, president of the Oriental Band, reported the band will play for dancing Oct. 17 following an initiation ceremony, with the place to be named later.

The club's annual corn roast will be Aug. 19 from 5 to 7 p.m. at Lake Marwin. Lunch was served. Next meeting is Sept. 14.

The widow of the American president arrived in Porto Ercole with her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, from Rome after ending a cruise along Yugoslavia's Adriatic coast.

Mrs. Kennedy and her sister are staying in a villa only a few hundred yards from that of Queen Juliana of the Netherlands. Dutch Princess Beatrix welcomed Mrs. Kennedy on her arrival in Porto Ercole.

The duties of the 73-year-old president have been taken over temporarily by Senate President Cesare Merzagora.

Christian Unity Seen Still Long Way Off

GENEVA (AP) — Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, says Pope Paul's encyclical indicates Christian unity is still a long way off.

Dr. Visser't Hooft, whose organization represents 209 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox denominations, said Tuesday it was "encouraging" that the Pope emphasized the necessity of continued dialogue among all Christians.

But he added:

"The concept of dialogue which the encyclical develops is not quite the same as that which we have used and practiced for many years in the ecumenical movement. According to the encyclical, dialogue is mainly a form of communication of the truth which the Roman Catholic Church holds."

River Tragedy's Survivors Recall Event At Reunion

Recollections of the sinking of the Scioto were recalled when two of the few living survivors of the famous river tragedy of 1882 met in East Liverpool Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Harry Todd, 515 E. 5th St., and Mrs. George P. Wilson of Richmond in Jefferson County, both 89, were only youngsters when the excursion boat sank in the Ohio River.

Fifty-seven died, including 28 from Wellsville and 21 from East Liverpool, when the Scioto hit the John Lomas, another excursion boat, near Mingo.

The Scioto was returning from an excursion to Moundsville. The tragedy happened July 4, 1882, when Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Wilson were children of 7.

They got together after an exchange of letters. Mrs. Todd learned of Mrs. Wilson in an account of the river tragedy in the "Waterways Journal," river magazine.

Mrs. Todd is the former Gussie Garner. She resides at the Gilmore Senior Citizens Home.

Food Discount Firm Files 2 Damage Suits

CLEVELAND (AP) — A food discount corporation has filed two damage suits totaling more than $4.3 million against a discount store, its lawyers and a Garfield Heights municipal judge.

Food Discount Centers, Inc., filed the suits Tuesday in Common Pleas Court, accusing the defendants of "conspiracy to obstruct and corrupt the legal proceedings" that led to the market's closing last December.

Named in the suits were Garfield Heights Judge Edward S. Crudele, Cleveland Value City, Inc., its lawyers, Harry Kottler, Milton T. Daus, Lloyd Schwenger and Arthur S. Goldsmith.

Also named were five Value city stockholders, Leon, Jerome, Saul and Alvin E. Schottenstein, all of Columbus, and David E. Kahn, of East Cleveland.

The suit grew out of the closing of the food discount market at Value City in Independence. Food Discount Centers, headed by Joseph Giunta of Pepper Pike, has leased space at Value City.

According to the petition, the Giunta firm had rented space at Value City for $2,270 a month in September 1962. Last December, Value City asked Garfield Heights Municipal Court to order the agreement with the Giunta firm void and return the store space. The store owners contended Food Discount Centers owed more than $20,000 in rent.

Judge Crudele ordered the market padlocked. Attorney Irving I. Saul of Dayton, who filed the motion for Food Discount, said Garfield Heights court had no jurisdiction in the case and said he had not been notified of the hearing which closed the market.

Judge Crudele's order was later reversed by Common Pleas Court. An appeal by Value City is now pending.

Registration Slated For Beaver Schools

Students who will attend Beaver Local schools for the first time when the new term opens Sept. 9 have been asked to register beforehand, Roy Cashdollar, executive head, said.

New pupils in Grades 1 through 9 are to register at the Beaver Local Public School, and others in Grades 10 through 12 at the high school.

Those who have moved into the district since last term are to register with other new pupils any day before school starts from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Cat Went Motoring

CALY CENTER, Kan. (AP) — E. W. Webb was befuddled when the sounds coming from under the hood of his car changed from a quiet purr to an eerie wail. Then his engine began acting odd. Webb checked and found that a cat had crawled into the engine compartment. When things got too hot, the cat jerked loose several wires in his attempts to gain freedom.

Another Sighting

KELOWNA, B.C. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kerry of Kelowna reported they watched Ogopo, the mysterious and unidentified "moster" of Okanagan Lake, swimming and diving for a mile down the lake till he disappeared near the Kelowna bridge. Kerry said Ogo "looked very much like a seal head, although I thought I could make out two horns."

The Lambert Trophy, symbolic of Eastern football supremacy, was awarded to Penn State in 1947 and 1962. The unbeaten '47 team won nine games and the '62 team posted a 9-1 record.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear little laundresses: That's us, gals!

Why do we wash all our sheets in one load, bath towels in another etc.?

Because mother did, that's why. Or books recommend it. Or because we have been doing it that way for years and years.

If you have white towels and white sheets, try putting one sheet in you machine and adding two bath towels, a few hand towels and some wash cloths and then giving it a spin. They (the sheet and towels) just might be glad to shake hands with each other!

-:-

THE ROUGHNESS of the terry cloth towels will rub against the smooth sheets and buff and scrub the soil away much easier and better than if a smooth sheet rubs against another smooth sheet.

And you should see the results we got (while testing in the laundry today) by mixing pillowslips and bath towels. Amazing!

After all, we have so many bath towels and so many sheets each week, so toss them together and see what wonderful results you get.

I'm sure that you all know not to mix colors together. White articles should be washed with white, etc.

We also tried washing some pale-colored bath towels which had been washed many times before, with some of my husband's old colored sport shirts and they came out beautifully. Again the rough towel did its miracle scrub.

You might try it. After all we have so many pounds (or is it tons) on washday and the loads come out the same.

I think you will love the results you get.

HELOISE.

—:—

If you are one of those blind bats who wear glasses—and some days you still cannot see what you are reading—if you are lucky enough to have an old pair, put one pair on top of the other and watch the print magnify!

I nearly dropped dead when I found this out.

BLIND BAT.

And I nearly dropped dead when I tried it! It works.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever tried making book covers out of wallpaper samples?

I covered some of our books (the ones that look shabby). They turn out beautifully and really dress up our book shelves.

These sample wallpaper books can be purchased at any wallpaper store.

BETTY.

DEAR HELOISE: I took my dingy white candles from the candle sticks and was ready to toss them out, but decided to try washing them in detergent and not too warm water. They look like new again. Try it!

ANNIE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you are uncomfortable because of tight bedcovers on your feet, just slip a pillow under the covers at the foot of the bed. This works beautifully.

CLAIRE MACKENZIE.

DEAR HELOISE: I made some small bags of nylon net and put a short drawstring around the top. I half-filled these bags with moth balls and hung them on my coat hangers with the clothes and sweaters.

The moth balls do not actually touch the clothes, but the nylon net allows the moth ball aroma to circulate through the closet.

The small nylon net bags, in all colors, look attractive in the closet and solves the problem of moths.

LEONIE S.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm 12 years old and a Girl Scout.

In response to Mrs. Kroll, who wrote in asking how to keep clothes dry on a camping trip:

The Girl Scouts have an effective method . . . if you put all your clothes in a large plastic bag, the clothes will not get damp.

JANET BROWN.

Coeds Like Hawaii U. Sessions In Summer

HONOLULU (AP) — The University of Hawaii summer sessions are popular with coeds throughout the nation. They flock there by the thousand.

Apart from Hawaii's sea and sun, they are possibly attracted by some of the courses, which include hula dancing, surf boarding, scuba diving and lessons on the ukulele.

They can earn credits in the hula and uke courses. The two water sports activities are extra-curricular.

Record Car Sales, Bank Deposits Bared For July

NEW YORK (AP) — The summer finds retailers fighting a see-saw battle to set record sales. Bankers, on the other hand, keep reporting that deposits are rising to successive highs.

But in July people bought more autos than in June. This pushed the vital sector of retail sales, durable goods, up by 2 per cent. This, says the Commerce Department in a preliminary guess, makes July the record month for sales in general.

The department had said the same thing about June in its preliminary survey. But that record didn't hold for long. Later figures dropped June behind May, leaving the earlier month still the champ.

At the same time consumers were buying more cars and other goods, both hard and soft, they weren't neglecting their bank accounts.

The National Association of Mutual Savings Banks reports the nation's 507 mutual savings banks had a total of $46.5 billion deposits in July, compared with $42.7 billion a year earlier.

This made July the record month. But the banks also had another record. The rise in deposits last month was $275 million, to top the previous high of a $158 million increase in july 1962. This summer's advance was more than twice that of July 1963, when deposit totals rose by $122 million.

The association says that rising deposits have been almost continuous during the five months since the federal income tax cut took effect. The bankers say people apparently are saving up to half of the tax cut.

Steadily rising totals of personal income, from wages and salaries, interest, rent collections, as well as tax breaks, have been enough to keep both the banks and the stores reasonably happy.

The Commerce Department's latest estimates put retail sales in May at $21.8 billion, and in June at $21.7 billion. It's first guess for July is $21.9 billion. If that holds, the midsummer month will be the champ.

Economists watch the durable goods sector closely because that is the most volatile. The nondurables, such as food and clothing and gasoline, leave the consumer with less discretion. He spends nearly the same on these when personal incomes are leveling off as he does when they are rising.

But when the consumer buys the big-ticket items, the cars and appliances, it may be because he feels confident of being able to swing the payments, or feels flush and expansive. It's a clue to how long the present business expansion may last.

Massive shocks beneath the sea can cause tidal waves which, traveling over deep open water, can reach speeds of more than 600 miles an hour. The waves are not high on the open sea but when they reach land they may reach to 90 feet or more.

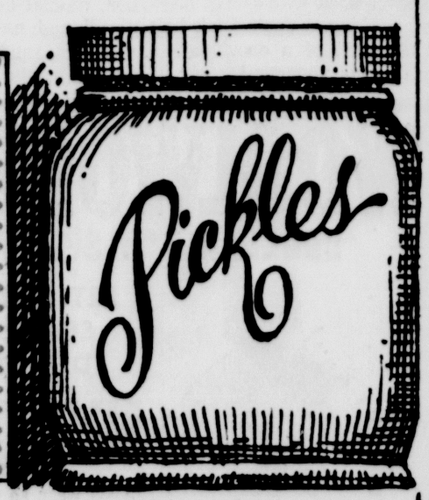

Porcupines have an insatiable craving for salt. The prickly animals often break into homes and summer cottages to chew furniture or clothing or anything that may have been touched by human hands and become impregnated with salt from perspiration.

Church Makes Money With Auction

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A big country auction is one way to fatten a church treasury.

It takes planning, volunteer workers and good furnishings to put it over, advises a church group now bustling with activity to top last year's profit, $7,000.

Each year, the Wilton, Conn., Congregational Church, one of the oldest in American — organized in 1726, built in 1790 — combines the furniture auction and a real Connecticut Yankee fair complete with blueberry preserves, white elephant sale, church supper and art exhibition. And people from many states beat a path to the church lawn.

THE AUCTION has been the high point of the fair for 20 years, attracting buyers because of the quality of the objects.

The planning goes on all year with teams of church workers, 150 strong. They divide into groups — refinishers, spit-and-polishers (they shine brass and other metals) and strong arm squad (they move objects from display areas to auction block.) Workers are spearheaded by a husband and wife team, Archibald and Justine Millikan who ferret out the antiques from the countryside of New England and other areas.

Originally, all pieces were donated, mainly from cleared attics, but the demand was so great for better items, that today they buy most of the antiques, and the profit is greater.

"We buy as many good things as we can find. Sometimes we buy the entire contents of houses and hit on real treasures," explains Mrs. Millikan, who has been a real estate operator for 30 years.

They buy what is in good taste and salable, she says. they often acquire some things that aren't old, and sell those in a special area.

THE AUCTION exhibit is set up in rooms in the Sunday school area, "so that people can visualize the way the objects fit into the home," she says. This year there are seven rooms for the auction.

A dining room has an exceptional rare table — 70 inches long with two drop leaves, 22½ inches each. The entire table surface is made of three pieces of mahogany. In a bedroom there is a rare bachelor's chest and a 17th-Century armoire.

A young boy's room is fully equipped with Indian-red sumac stained pine, complete to bed and blanket chest, early 1700s. An exceptional pair of children's country Sheraton chairs of museum quality found by the Millikans in Massachusetts would be a credit to any auction gallery.

Among the 400 items to be auctioned are the usual things—porcelains, Chippendale mirrors, bedspreads, quilts, lamps, sconces, andirons, kettles, bed warmers.

The 15 refinishers work all year removing paint, sanding, waxing, shellacing and replacing hardware. Old brasses are bought in quantity, kept on tap for the purpose.

At the exhibit, 80 hosts and hostesses station themselves in rooms equipped with documentation and any history available on pieces offered. All items are cataloged.

Some of the finest pieces offered in the past in Mrs. Millikan's opinion were a dower chest dated 1680 and shelves from Thomas Jefferson's home in Charlottesville. Two years ago a rare curly maple card-table brought $500.

"People are more knowledgeable about antiques than they were years ago," explains Mrs. Millikan. "Good furniture is an investment and they are willing to buy things with large price tags."

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Good Books Provide Mental Stimulation

Recently I've been getting an increasing number of letters from parents of bright children who feel these children are not getting enough mental stimulation at school. They wish to know what they can do at home to provide them with opportunities to satisfy their zeal to learn more. For example, a Texas mother writes: "I don't know if I have a problem or not, or if any other action is called for, but I want your opinion.

Dr. Garry Myers

"My younger son is 12 and has an I.Q. of 135. Last year at the end of school I was told that he had made perfect scores in all parts of the achievement tests, the equivalent of 10th grade level. I think our school is doing a good job, considering their resources, or he wouldn't have done so well. But I feel that he isn't being challenged enough.

—:—

"HE IS curious and interested in everything, especially the sciences. I feel that for his own happiness, and to meet the needs of society, he should be given more chance to learn. Our school has very little money, science equipment, books, etc. Also the public library is very limited. We have just found out that we can check books out of the Waco library and are doing this. What are some of the other resources we could explore?

"We don't think a private school is as important as his being at home, but what do you think? He is very well adjusted, kind and happy. He has many friends. In fact, he likes everybody. His teachers say he has a very good attitude in sharing his knowledge with the other children.

"My other son will be 16 this summer, has the same I.Q. and is a fine student. His special talent is in languages. He has always been especially good at expressing himself and has this faculty in foreign languages. He will have had two years of Spanish and two years of Latin when he graduates.

"SCHOOL IS not much challenge to him, either, and he occupies himself with sports, band and working. I don't think he's at as much of a disadvantage here as his younger brother is, except when it comes to the colleges he can get into."

My reply in part: It is wonderful that you have two bright children and that you are eager to stimulate them to develop their talents. Go on using any public library you can find available. You even might want to drive or go by bus to a more distant library to find the kinds of things that these boys are interested in.

Encourage them to read Science News Letter, Science World and such adult magazines as Reader's Digest or Newsweek or Time, especially their science articles. View with the younger, or both, some of the science programs on TV.

Try to have the younger meet persons who are scientifically trained, inviting some of such persons to your home. It would be fine if your elder son could meet some Spanish - speaking persons. Encourage him to go on with Spanish in college. Talk with him of his hopes to travel some day to Spain, or to another of the Spanish - speaking nations.

PERHAPS THE best thing your parents can do is to continue to read worthwhile things yourselves. You might also read some of the same things the children read and discuss them together.

There may be times when they learn certain things at school which are new to you parents. Then you can listen appreciatively as they talk about what they have read. I'm sure you are wonderful parents and live richly with your children.

Hotel Reserved For Wellsville Band's Fair Trip

The Wellsville Band Parents met Monday night at Daw Junior High School and it was announced reservations have been made at the Southern Hotel in Columbus for the band's trip to the Ohio State Fair Aug. 28.

Mrs. Genevieve Heaton, president, said not enough reservations could be secured for accommodations at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel.

In other business, it was reported that band members will hold a car wash Saturday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. at 9th and Center Sts. for additional funds for the trip. They were to hold a paper drive today.

Mrs. Heaton said $22 was cleared from the dance sponsored Saturday night at MacDonald School, towards the trip.

As fund-raising projects for other purposes, the parents will soon be selling Christmas candles and Tiger stickers.

Pictures and prices of tailored majorette uniforms were shown and discussed. Next meeting will be Sept. 14 at 8 p. m. at Daw Junior High.

New Way To Combat Painful Corns Bared

NEW YORK (AP) — Painful corns disappear with injections of a spongy plastic between the corn and the bone underneath, reports Dr. Irwin Acker of Greensboro, N.C.

He told the annual meeting of the American Podiatry Association Tuesday, "The plastic acts as a mattress or shock absorber that takes pressure off the afflicted area."

He said he successfully treated six corn sufferers with silicone-rubber materials used in plastic surgery. He said pain stops the first day and the corn disappears after a few days.

Vote With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Democratic Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young voted with the majority Tuesday as the Senate approved, 50 to 35, an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., cutting $216.7 million from the omnibus foreign aid authorization.

Raps Goldwater As Anti-Labor

Ohio AFL-CIO Backs State Democrat Aspirants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education has endorsed nearly all the state's Democratic candidates running for state and federal contests in the November election and criticized as anti-labor Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Among those receiving endorsements from the labor organization's political policy-making body are U. S. Sen. Stephen M. Young, Democratic congressman - at-large candidate Robert E. Sweeney and the Democratic candidates in 21 of the 23 congressional district races.

Also endorsed at Tuesday's meeting of the committee were all Democratic candidates for the state senatorial contests except for the races in the 3rd, 23rd, 25th and 32nd districts and four of the five Democratic candidates in the State Supreme Court contests.

No republican candidates received endorsements. The committee said no endorsements were made in the one Supreme Court, two congressional and four state senatorial contests because local political education committees had not yet made their recommendations.

The committee termed Goldwater's presidential candidacy "the most serious threat to the welfare of Ohio citizens and workers" since 1958 when a so-called right-to-work amendment to the Ohio Constitution was a major issue.

The amendment, which would have outlawed compulsory union membership, received general Republican support, was soundly defeated and Democratic candidates swept to victory in nearly every contest including governor and U. S. senator.

The committee Tuesday urged the national AFL-CIO to endorse President Johnson for re-election and said that Goldwater and his "anti-American and anti-labor" platform must be rejected.

"Sen. Goldwater is on record in favor of state enactment of so-called 'right-to-work' laws," the committee asserted.

It charged that Goldwater's platform infers that the "country should do without unions when it states, 'We Republicans shall rely on the individual's rights and capacity to advance his own well-being.'"

In endorsing Sen. Young's re-election, the committee praised him for his support of the late President John F. Kennedy and President Johnson and described him as a "true friend of the Ohio worker who stands for progress and the best interests of the people of Ohio."

The committee's endorsements in the Ohio Supreme Court races went to incumbent judges Charles B. Zimmerman, Lynn B. Griffith and Rankin M. Gibson.

Endorsements for the remaining Supreme Court race and congressional and state senatorial contests will be made later, the committee said.

30 Will Compete In 4-H Event For Tractor Drivers

LISBON — Over 30 boys will compete in Columbiana County's annual 4-H tractor driving contest at 1 p. m. Saturday at Gause Implement, Inc., on Route 172 at Guilford Lake.

Charles Gause, tractor club advisor, said the field will be reduced to six county finalists who will compete at the same place at 1 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 22, for a trip to the Ohio State Fair contest.

These eliminations lead to the eastern United States 4-H tractor operators' contest Sept. 27-29, at Richmond, Va.

Boys in the county contest must have satisfactorily completed work in tractor safety, care and maintenance, and gained experience in serving and operating a farm tractor.

Gause said the contestants will have to demonstrate their ability in each area of the contest. The winner will be the boy with the lowest penalty score.

These contests climax the 4-H tractor program for 1964. The county club had 37 boys enrolled. Gause said the public is invited to watch the young operators perform.

76 Steers Slated For Auction Sale At County's Fair

LISBON — Columbiana County 4-H Steer Club members will parade 76 choice steers to the auction stand in the fairgrounds coliseum at 8:30 p. m. Friday, Aug. 28.

Glen Shreve of Damascus will be in charge of the sale, an annual feature of the County Fair.

Robert B. Lewis, county 4-H agent, said all individuals and businesses wishing to support the 4-H steer program are invited. People desiring to have someone buy a steer for them may make arrangements with local meat processors prior to the sale, he said.

Steers up for sale have been fed and cared for by 4-H'ers from all parts of the county. Lewis said the purpose of the steer-feeding project is to teach feeding and management practices.

In an uprising against British Colonial troops in the middle of the 18th Century, the rocket brigade of Indian Prince Hydar Ali dealt the superior British force a crushing defeat. The rockets weighed about 10 pounds and could be directed against objects a mile away.

Meet A Sleepwalker—

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Meet a sleepwalker — the kind who's liable to show up in pajamas at a neighbor's full-dress cocktail party to talk about foam-rubber capstans or the Malaysian market for blue candles.

There must be others like him, but you rarely hear of them because they aren't organized. What's needed is a group called Somnambulists Anonymous or SWAP —Sleep Walkers Are People — or even SLUMBERING — so let us meander boldly everywhere robed in night garb.

His wife, doctor and assorted hospital attendants confirm his sleeping hours are a weird kaleidoscope of grotesque actions. He is likely to startle his wife in the darkeness by saying: "Peacock plumes make caviar for squids."

The trouble is that he's never awake to know it. He is left to wander and talk through a mistaken notion that sleepwalkers shouldn't be awakened. The curiosity of man has been piqued for centuries by his nocturnal fraternity — they were once thought bewitched — and even modern medical books kiss off somnambulism as a psychoneurosis.

It's more than that, though. It's a nocturnal adventure in ingenuity.

There is nothing of the hands-outstretched, ghost-like walk in the real sleepwalker, although that's always been the caricature of him. He walks normally with the uncanny ability of making his way safely around furniture, over electric cords and through closed doors.

I should know, because my wife tells me about it the next day. I've been a sleepwalker all my life.

There was the time, with two feet of snow on the ground, when she caught me at the corner a block away, dressed for a night on the town in one tennis shoe, red pajama top and earmuffs.

In a hospital recently, under orders to stay in bed, I got up five times in one night. Finally, I was tied to the bed with restraining jacket. They found me standing in the corner of another floor. The restraining jacket still was fastened to the bed.

One morning, my patient wife who took over retrieving me where my mother left off, asked: "What are capstans?"

Why?

"Because at 4 o'clock you said, 'When you sew up my rope don't forget to use foam-rubber capstans'."

A capstan is a shipboard gadget for raising anchors. I don't recall ever having heard the word before.

In my sleep, I have climbed a ladder, wooden spoon in hand, to fix the roof; have gotten halfway through ordering a phone call to a flower shop in Manitou, Iowa — is there such a place? — and have packed a suitcase with three old newspapers, a light bulb and two bunches of raw carrots.

She plans to get rich by collecting my profundities in a book.

ROUND RESIDENCE. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith of Haydenville, Ohio, say they have had more visitors since buying a round house in March than they have had in 30 years previous residence in the community. The house is bisected by a partition on each of its two floors, so there are four rooms each with two corners. The Smiths say anybody who shows an interest is welcome to come in and look around.

Judge In Texas Bars Reporters

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Judge Allen B. Hannay of U.S. District Court has issued an order prohibiting reporters from sitting at the press table in his courtroom.

The press table is located inside a swinging gate wich separates the spectator seats from the attorneys' tables, the jury box and the judge' bench.

Hannay said Tuesday reporters would be allowed to sit with spectators, but they would not be permitted to go past the swinging gate.

Asked why he was imposing such an order, Hannay said an item about him recently contained incorrect reporting.

The item stated, he said, that grand jury witnesses had been hidden in his private chambers and whisked across a hall to the jury room.

Vote Fraud Is Charged In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Investigators for Secretary of State Ted W. Brown report they have found evidence of voting irregularities in two Cleveland wards in the May primary.

Brown reported Tuesday that a month-long probe by three to five full-time election investigators has revealed ballot fraud in Ward 10 and illegal registration and voting from vacant houses in Ward 17.

"There is fraud if the facts hold up as it is diagnosed in the findings," Brown said after presenting the report to Ray C. Miller, clerk for the Board of elections.

The investigation grew out of a published report that five of 10 persons registered to vote from Councilman Jack Russell's office and home in Ward 6 lived elsewhere. Russell, a Democrat, was ousted in January from the Council presidency post he held for many years.

Brown said his report in the Russell matter is now in the hands of Cuyahoga County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan, who has promised grand jury action on illegal voting cases.

For the past 12 years, Brown said, he had urged the board of elections here to decentralize its operations into three or four offices for closer contact with voting problems.

"But I haven't been able to convince this board," the secretary added.

In Ward 10 Browns' investigators were checking a complaint from Mrs. Lucinda Walker, who was defeated for precinct committeewoman in the May primary. They said they found 41 "short penciled" ballots in Ward 10, Precinct T, and 66 ballots with double "X's" which nullified the ballots for both Mrs. Walker and her opponent, Mrs. Mary Hughes.

Thomas Crisafi, chief state investigator, said of the findings in the report:

"The election was taken from her (Mrs. Walker) by a person or persons who marked 41 ballots not voted for either candidate and also by canceling 66 votes for Mrs. Walker by double voting for the office."

The board of elections certified that Mrs. Walker got six votes and Mrs. Hughes 101.

In Ward 17 the investigators reported they found four vacant and abandoned houses being used as voting addresses. They said evidence also turned up persons who voted but not from the addresses they originally gave when registering.

Miller prepared subpoenas for five day time poll workers in Precinct T last May to appear before the board of elections at 11 a.m. Friday.

5 Bondsmen Demand Police Chief Resign

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Five bail bondsmen picketed the chief of police Tuesday with signs demanding his resignation.

But Chief C. I. Robb announced his retirement the day before, so why the demonstration?

"Well," explained one, who with the others is mad because they aren't allowed offices alongside six other bondsmen in the jail, "we had the signs painted before the retirement and we thought we might just as well use them."

Meningitis Outbreak Controlled, Army Says

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — Army officials say a meningitis outbreak that has claimed 10 lives at Ft. Ord apparently has been controlled.

Post Surgeon Rolland B. Sigafoos said Tuesday "we still have nine patients in the hospital, but, thankfully, all are now off the serious list."

The disease has stricken 61 persons so far this year at this Army training base. Nine soldiers and a child, a military dependant, have died of the dissease.

Coach Dick Sisler of the Cincinnati Reds decided the 1950 National League pennant when he hit a home run against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the final game. He was a Phillie outfielder that season.

China Blasts Soviet Over U.S. Attack

SAIGON (AP) — Communist China accused the Soviet Union Tuesday of being too cautious in denouncing the United States for its recent reprisal attack on North Vietnamese patrol boat bases.

Shortly after Peking radio broadcast the rap at the Kremlin, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell Taylor told a news conference in Saigon the United States has adequate military resources to repel any Communist attack on South Viet Nam.

The official New China News Agency complained that statements by Soviet officials "did not refer to extending support to the just struggle of the North Viet Nam against U.S. aggression."

Red China also said the Soviet Union's two leading newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, were publishing American statements on Viet Nam without comment, even though the Communist regime in North Viet Nam had said the statements were "fabricated lies."

China said the North Vietnamese government sent an urgent message to the International Control Commission in Viet Nam accusing the United States of "continuing to provoke and sabotage North Viet Nam."

The control commission, consisting of representatives from India, Canada and Poland, has arrived in Hanoi, the capital of North Viet Nam, for on-the-spot investigations.

Taylor said the recent crisis in Viet Nam's Gulf of Tonkin was a reminder of "a need for readiness to respond to aggression at any level."

"This," he added, "we are prepared to do. We have adequate resources to meet any situation I can conceive of."

Taylor declined to comment on Washington reports about Communist Chinese jet fighter planes taking up stations in North Viet Nam.

As for U. S. jets based in South Viet Nam, Taylor said they would stay there until they are no longer needed. But he said he knew of no plans for using them against the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Survived 5 Assassination Attempts

Elite Regiment Of 2,000 Protect Indonesia Chief

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Troops with unsheathed bayonets took up positions along a busy Jakarta street. Sirens sounded and eight motorcycle police, four armored cars and nine jeeps filled with guards swept past.

In the center of the convoy was the long, black limousine carrying the president of Indonesia.

An American woman tourist looked on slightly wide-eyed, then put down her orange soda and said:

"Tell me, just how popular is this President Sukarno?"

The question is a difficult one.

At 63 Sukarno, lifetime president of this island country, has survived five assassination attempts since 1957. The bristling escort is routine when he moves through this city of three million.

After an attempt on his life in May 1962, Sukarno formed the Tjakarabirawa regiment, an elite guard of more than 2,000 men whose sole task is to protect him. This red-bereted guard is tough.

Like all leaders, Sukarno is the possible target of an assassin, but there is no evidence to suggest the heavy security indicates unrest that could lead to revolts or that it is even a sign of widespread unpopularity.

While there are those who oppose Sukarno and the so-called guided democracy that gives him almost unrestricted powers, there is no significant open opposition. Any criticism of Sukarno is voiced guardedly and then only to persons in whom the critics have complete trust. Some who have been more forthright are no longer in this country, or are in jail.

No newspaper attacks the president personally. The government-run radio hails his policies in words and music.

Listening to nearby Radio Malaysia is forbidden. Books critical of Sukarno have been burned or barred. Some American publications are banned.

Indonesia's 10 legal political parties, ranging from Communist to nationalist to religious, may bicker among themselves but they never assail the president or his actions.

The Parliament is appointed. The last elections were held in 1955.

By utilizing fully his shrewd sense of balance and timing, Sukarno has been able to play off the country's major strengths against each other and has come out on top.

He is the only president Indonesia has had since independence was declared in 1945.

Outwardly and officially, then, the answer to the lady's question is that Sukarno is popular. For all those voices abroad who denounce him as a demagogue or dictator, an expansionist and aggressor, there are Indonesians here who speak of him in terms of near worship.

Low Bids Total $3.6 Million On W. Va. Road Jobs

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Road Commission opened bids Tuesday on three highway improvement projects, with apparent low bids totaling $3.6 million. There were no bidders on a fourth project.

The apparent low bidder for the largest contract was S. J. Groves and Sons Co. of Minneapolis, Minn. The firm submitted an apparent low bid of $3,414,557 on a Berkeley County construction job involving 5.6 miles of Interstate 81 from W. Va. 45 to south of Secondary 30.

A Morgantown firm, J. C. Haynes, submitted the apparent low bid on a Marion County project. The company bid $169,359 for the reconstruction of the Coal Run Bridge on U. S. 250 in Fairmont.

Monty Brothers of St. Albans was the apparent low bidder on a Wyoming County project for constructing the Lacoma bridge carrying W. Va. 10 over Huff Creek. The firm bid $70,158.

No bids were submitted on an Interstate 64 project involving the construction of two overpasses in Kanawha and Putnam counties.

All are federal aid projects and the bids must be approved by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads before contracts are awarded.

OK Of Levy Assures New Sheffield School

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Passage of a .5-mill school levy will insure completion of a proposed $1 million high school and three additions to elementary schools in the Sheffield Lake School District.

Voters Tuesday approved passage 710 to 182. Robert Knudsen, school board president, said the outcome would permit the school district to meet educational needs in the two Lorain County communities for the next 10 years.

Gets $8 Million Pact

U.S. Calls Upon Allies To Curb Woolen Exports

By JOSEPH R. SLEVIN
Herald Tribune News Service

WASHINGTON —The United States secretly is pressuring some of its most important allies to cut down their exports of woolens to American consumers.

The State Department is conducting the negotiations, and it's serving its demands on Great Britain, Italy and Japan.

It all adds up to one of the most curious commercial policy plays in recent years. The State Department refuses to discuss the talks and even denies they are taking place.

A special four-man U.S. delegation presented its case in London and Rome during late July, and active negotiations are underway with the Japanese Embassy here.

"I cannot officially confirm or deny this," a State Department spokesman said. "We are neither confirming nor denying that there was a mission."

THE FACT is that the mission did go, did come back, and that it was headed by San Francisco attorney Warren Christopher, who conducted the lengthy 1962 Geneva cotton-textile negotiations.

The other three members were Stanley Nehmer, deputy director of the State Department's Office of International Resources; James S. Love, special deputy to the secretary of commerce for textile programs, and Stanley Ruttenberg, special assistant to the secretary of labor.

The State Department is acting under insistent pressure from the domestic woolen industry and from influential Democratic Sen. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island—the man President Johnson has tapped to keynote the Democratic convention.

Pastore has only a modest amount of woolen industry in his tiny state, but he has important cotton-textile constituents. He fears that woolen imports will substitute for cotton textiles if they are not held down.

The State Department's refusal to comment directly reflects its great embarrassment at being involved in trying to force our allies to curb their exports.

It's an awkward thing to be doing because the United States is making its demands even as it is denouncing the European Common Market countries for policies.

WHAT IS MORE, the United States is seeking to protect an American industry on the eve of the Kennedy round tariff negotiations it has been clamoring for since 1962.

The United States demands cover wool tops, yarn, cloth, and apparel. American producers are complaining because domestic production is no bigger than it was in 1961, while imports have soared. Purchases of foreign woolens boomed from 85 million square yards in 1961 to 140 million in 1962 and to 142 million in 1963.

Italy and Japan boosted their sales 15 million square yards each while Britain gained 5 million. France, Hong Kong, Uruguay and other suppliers accounted for another 20 million yards. American purchases of sweaters and other apparel have gone up the most.

The United States is seeking a "voluntary" pledge that the producing countries will cut their exports. It now has similar agreements that cover cotton textiles and meats.

It's warning its allies that they can "voluntarily" agree to limit their sales or risk having Congress unilaterally impose drastic quotas.

The mission to London and Rome set out the U.S. position but did not seek commitments. Italy was just about to swear in a new cabinet, and the British Cabinet faces a general election in October.

But the State Department intends to press ahead this fall after the new British government is installed.

Secret protectionist demands may not square with this country's loud public calls for lower tariffs, but the woolen industry is very influential.

Urges All To Register, Vote

Johnson Declares Voting First Duty Of Democracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Voting is the first duty of democracy," says President Johnson. And he wants every eligible American to register and vote this fall.

He made his appeal Tuesday at a White House meeting sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation. A bipartisan group of about 170 political, civic, business and government leaders attended.

Johnson said almost 35 per cent of the electorate failed to vote four years ago and almost 40 million eligible men and women are not registered to vote this year.

"We preach the virtues of democracy abroad," Johnson said. "We must practice its duties at home."

—:—

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill that would increase pension benefits for war veterans or their widows.

Approval came Tuesday on a 388-0 roll-call vote. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The Veterans Administration estimates the measure would add $44 million to pensions in this fiscal year that ends next June 30 and mount in cost until it added $111 million to pensions in the 1969 fiscal year.

At the most, the increase could come to $35 a month. This would apply to a veteran with three dependents who has an income of less than $1,200 a year. His new maximum would be $110 a month.

—:—

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would reduce meat imports has been sent to a Senate-House Conference Committee and backers of the measure fear it will stay right there and die quietly.

The measure which would cut meat imports by 30 per cent, had the backing of the livestock industry and was approved by the Senate on a 72-15 vote.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has stamped its final approval on the food stamp bill and sent it to President Johnson for his signature.

Final congressional action on the measure came Tuesday when the House accepted the Senate version, in which only minor changes had been made.

The bill expands and makes permanent a pilot program now in operation in 43 counties. Under the program, needy families get $10 worth of food stamps for $6 in cash. The stamps can be spent at grocery stores for almost any food item.

The plan is expected to cost $25 million the first year, $75 million the next, $100 million the third year and $200 million for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1967.

Warren Group Studies Plan To Release Text On Slaying

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission, meeting in secret to consider how it will release the text of its Kennedy assassination report, considered a plan whereby contracts would be signed between the government and some information media.

These media would be supplied the text of the report somewhat in advance of other media on condition they "observe security" — not publish the report before the specified release date and then publsh it in full.

The commission's chief counsel, J. Lee Rankin, briefed newsmen after the secret session Tuesday. The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, is nearing the end of its long investigation into the assassination last Nov. 22 of President John F. Kennedy.

There have been reports that certain paperback book companies have had negotiations with the commission. So, a reporter asked: "How can a government commission, engaged on such a project of grave national import, engage in contractual negotiations with private concerns?"

Said Rankin: "You will have to take this up with Mr. George Reedy at the White House."

Reedy is the White House press secretary.

Rankin's response was the same when asked if the report shouldn't be released to everyone simultaneously, perhaps three or four days in advance, so everyone would get a chance to read the thick document before writing about it.

At the White House, Reedy told a newsman: "As far as the White House is concerned, no plans have been made for the release of the report. We will give consideration to this matter at an appropriate time."

In Rochester, N.Y., Paul Miller, president of The Associated Press and president of the Gannett Newspapers, said when asked for comment: "The Associated Press is opposed and will continue to be opposed to anything other than simultaneous release of the report to all."

Might Miss Something

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Phil Young of Wichita said he was driving on the Kansas Turnpike when he noticed another motorist driving along with a newspaper spread across the steering wheel. Young said he followed the car for about 40 miles while the other driver leafed through the paper at the same time he was driving 70 miles per hour.

South Side's Schools Await 'Bell' Sept. 1

Preparations are being made for the new term beginning Sept. 1 at the Southern Beaver County School District's South Side Junior - Senior High School and elementary building at Hookstown.

Charles P. Henderson, principal, has not estimated enrollment but 1,088 attended last term — 525 in the high school and 563 in the elementary.

The schools serve students of the Frankfort Springs, Georgetown, Greene Township, Hanover Township, Hookstown and Shippingport school districts.

Lunches will be served the first day, according to Henderson, and parents were reminded to send $1 with their children for the four lunches the first week.

Weekly lunches will cost $1.25 when purchased on Friday, and tickets will cost 35 cents each if not bought on Friday.

Parents of first - year children must attach a name tag to the child's clothing and the number of their bus.

New residents in the school district must register their school - age children at the elementary office before the opening of classes.

Both the elementary and high school buses will pick up students at approximately the same time as last term.

Henderson said several improvements have been made to the school plant for the new term, including construction of 10 new classrooms and a complete language laboratory, enlarged wood, metal, plastics and drawing shop areas and enlarged cafeteria and kitchen facilities.

Expansion of the library, establishment of a guidance center, new general science room and additional physical education facilities for both boys and girls are other projects.

The Junior High School will offer an accelerated program of general science and algebra in the eighth grade, along with biology in the ninth grade.

A six - year language program will be offered, which will include conversational French in the seventh and eighth grades, Latin or French I in the ninth grade, French II or Latin II in 10th grade, French III in 11th grade and French IV in the 12th grade.

The science program offers earth and space, physics and chemistry, along with a senior science program for students not planning to attend college. A complete math program will also be offered.

The school will offer diplomas in academic, commercial and general courses, with specific classes required for each. Kenneth C. Kurtz, guidance director and school psychologist, said that seniors in the 1964 graduating class were accepted in 29 colleges and universities, in addition to various technical and nursing schools.

Eight new teachers have been added to date. Mrs. Shirley Woodling and James B. Laughlin will teach in the elementary building, while new teachers in the high school will be Dan Frasier, Robert Pardue, Miss Sareta McKnight, Fred Milanovich, John Marquez and Miss Rebecca Gatho.

Two more appointments for the high school staff are expected to be made at a special meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening at the school.

Minuteman Costs Less

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — — The Air Force estimates it costs $100,000 annually to maintain a solid-fuel Minuteman intercontinental range missle on station. This compares with an upkeep figure of $1 million a year for each of the earlier liquid-fuel, more complex Atlas and Titan ICBMs.

Rhodes Declines Prediction About GOP Conference

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Ohio's Gov. James A. Rhodes has declined to predict the outcome of today's high-level conference of Republican governors and party leaders.

The meeting, with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Barry Goldwater, the party's presidential standard-bearer, is described as a unity session.

Rhodes was to drive here from Washington, where he participated in a meeting Tuesday designed to organize the midwestern states for obtaining more federal contracts for the region.

Governors and members of Congress from 12 midwest states meeting in the House Ways and Means Committee room at the Capitol, agreed to organize a six-man executive committee on a bipartisan basis in their contract-seeking effort. It will include two governors, two house members and two senators.

Final Rites Conducted For Wrong Person

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ramundo Reyes' funeral was a reverent event, carefully arranged by members of his family.

They chipped in $150 to pay the mortuary and cemetery. His nephew contributed $22 for the burial suit. Reyes' Social Security was cut off, his other worldly affairs were terminated.

Final rites were conducted last Friday.

Tuesday, Reyes, 74, was home again.

The nephew, Adam Rios, saw him first. Reyes was crossing the street, toward his house.

"I put my hand to my forehead," Rios related, "and I said, 'Oh, my God!' "

Reyes' sister, Paula, 75, was more calm.

"Where have you been?" she asked Ramundo, with whom she resided.

He murmured something about Mexico, but he didn't remember much that had happened since he disappeared three weeks ago.

Miss Reyes said her brother accompanied her to General Hospital three weeks ago when she went for treatment. He waited outside.

When she returned to the waiting room, he was gone. So was $16 in her purse and $290 in her shopping bag.

Police were notified.

Last Wednesday, police called to say the coroner's office had the body of a man, matching Reyes' description, who had died the day before at a downtown relief mission.

"We sent right down," said Rios. "We even took along some of the neighbors and friends, and they all agreed that it was my uncle."

Fifty friends and relatives filed past the open casket after the rosary last Thursday night. None questioned the identity of the deceased.

"I would have sworn it was him," said a neighbor.

Uncle Ramundo couldn't explain what had happened.

Reyes said he couldn't believe he'd been away for three weeks. It seemed like only a few days.

"When things like this happen," he said, "the government ought to investigate."

Tuesday Rios took his uncle to Social Security and state aid authorities to prove Reyes was alive, so his payments could start again.

"There he sits now," said Rios, "but who is the man we buried?"

"We call him John Doe," said a deputy coroner.

What does Uncle Ramundo think about his funeral?

"I don't want to think about it," he said.

Planned Tuesday Playlots' Picnic

Swimming, candy and peanut scrambles, games and races will highlight the annual area playground picnic at Thompson Park Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., Keith Dunlevy, playlot director for the East Liverpool Area Recreation Council, announced.

Children will swim free of charge at the pool from 10 to noon. This will be followed by a picnic lunch on the large field at the entrance to the park.

After the lunch youngsters will compete in games, scrambles and races with prizes for winners.

The supervisor of each of the 16 area playlots will arrange transportation to the park along with what food and recreational items each youth is to bring with him.

Miss Joyce Massey of Pleasant Heights, Miss Nancy Smith of Calcutta, and Miss Jean Saurbrei of the Emmanuel Church playground will be in charge.

Gopher Trap Brings Fame For Oklahoman

KAW CITY, Okla. — J. W. Pewther built a better gopher trap and if the world didn't exactly beat a path to his doorway, his fame did spread through the Midwest.

Pewther devised his improved trap 43 years ago. He was killed in a hunting accident in 1945, but his widow took over production of the traps at Wichita, Kan. Last year a son, Robert, moved operations across the state line to Kaw City and the plant now can produce 2,000 traps a week.

The firm sold 52,000 traps last year and expects to sell 70,000 this year. Kaw City's only "industry" still is housed in a garage workshop, where Robert Pewther twists steel wire into a deadly device.

The trap is especially popular in states which pay bounties for gophers. And, with an eye to a city market, Pewther adds it also is effective against lawn moles.

2 Doctors Urge Day Car Lights

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Two Indiana University optometrists say that even in broad daylight automobiles can become dangerously hard to see. The two, Dr. Merrill J. Allen and Dr. James R. Clark, recommend that all cars be required to display running lights—day as well as night.

The doctors' report was based on a study sponsored in part by the university and the American Optometric Foundation.

They said that use of low-beam headlights at all times on Greyhound buses had effected on 11 per cent decrease in daytime accidents in the U.S. and 24 per cent in Canada.

The doctors also said, "Cream to white-colored cars are usually six times more visible than darker colors."

They said two-tone cars "often imitate wartime camouflage patterns and are easily lost in a complex scene."

Among road conditions which add to the camouflage effect they listed smog, rain, sun glare and ordinary surroundings.

Turkish Men Prefer To Marry Greek Girls

ISTANBUL (AP) — Greece and Turkey may be wrangling over Cyprus, but when it comes to love there's no problem.

It seems Turkish men prefer Greek girls.

The Turkish State Statistics Institute reported that of 172 Turks who married foreign women in Turkey last year, 57 chose Greeks.

The British gals were the next choice. Ten married Turks in 1963. This was followed by nine Italians, nine Cypriots, eight Austrians and eight Lebanese.

Who do the Turkish girls prefer?

American men. Of the 246 Turkish girls who married foreigners last year 70 married Americans.

They'll be 30 miles from civilization, with only two quarts of water and a survival kit until Friday. If the astronauts wish to eat, they'll have to forage food from plants and animals.

U.S. Continues Its War Upon Baffling Diseases

By EARL UBELL
Herald Tribune News Service

EAST DOLLAR ISLAND, LAKE GEORGE, N.Y. — Five years ago I sat by a lakeside in late summer and tried to answer the question: if the $2 billion spent on the atomic bomb had been spent on medical research, would we have found the cures for cancer, heart disease, and mental illness? I concluded, in a series of articles, that we could not expect such medical results because we did not, in 1959, have the same fundamental knowledge of these ailments that the physicists did of the atom back in 1939.

Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, who led the atom bomb makers, said it best. "We shook the tree of knowledge and out fell some fruit."

Well, here we are, five years later, at another lakeside, and, surprisingly, the United States government has spent more than $1.5 billion on these three major ailments. We have not eliminated them. Now we hear the cry that we should spend money on bio-medical research rather than on space, because now the space funds are bigger — $5 billion a year.

WHAT ARE the chances at this time of knocking out cancer, heart disease, and mental disease? Unfortunately, we are almost in the same situation—somewhat improved — as we were five years ago.

In the war against heart disease, we pointed out one excellent clue-diet. It seems likely that a diet low in fat, and low in animal fat in particular, will reduce the chances of atherosclerosis, hardening of the arteries. This in turn will decrease the chances of coronary heart attack, which occurs because the coronary artery is clogged with fat.

We also know that cigarette smoking increases the risk of heart attack, probably by damaging the lungs, thereby embarrassing an already clogged coronary artery.

With these leads it's possible to mount the kind of large-scale research which could lead to an unequivocal resolution of the issues. Indeed, we have already started a vast human feeding experiment — which will eventually involve 50,000 persons — to determine if diet does indeed lower the risk of coronary artery disease.

If this experiment succeeds, we will then probably witness a vast change in the American way of dining and dying.

Cigarettes, the second clue in heart disease, are also a central issue in cancer, particularly in lung cancer. Five years ago it was the best lead scientists had against cancer, and it remains so to this day.

Two possibilities remain open to the kind of large-scale approach which would require space-sized budgets.

ONE APPROACH would be to extract cancer-causing elements in tobacco smoke. Of course, the cigarette companies are trying vigorously to do so. However, it's just the kind of task which suits American technical ability — mass operations, screening thousands of chemicals, testing them and then producing them. Undoubtedly several hundred million dollars could induce the American chemical industry systemically to analyze cigarette smoke for the cancer - causing substances.

However, solving the cigarette-cancer problem does not of itself solve the cigarette-heart problem. At this point only the elimination of cigarettes will suffice. And here we have hardly a suggestion of how to do it —the bait is so strong that the cigarette manufacturers could confidently and correctly predict that cigarette smoking would return to its old levels a few months after the surgeon general's alarming report on tobacco and health. It has.

Here we need fundamental research into all habit-forming drugs before any large - scale project can be mounted.

IN CANCER, we have another idea, which, although not yet ready for atom bomb-style exploitation, may bring us to the threshold of victory. I refer to the chemical investigations of heredity — to the attempt to understand the biochemical underpinnings of living processes cancer — a distortion of the life process—may yield to efforts to unravel the life chemistry.

As to mental disease, the whole field is a muddle. It is true that the tranquilizing drugs have revolutionized the whole approach to the sick of mind, but even this advance is being threatened by the old confusion. The confusion arises from two separate views of the origin of severe mental illness —one saying that the primary cause rests in society and in psychological environments, the other that severe disease is inherited like eye color and that environment merely exacerbates the underlying condition.

NORMALLY, such an argument over the cause of a disease would never leave the academic world, but in the case of mental illness the proponents of the environmental - psychological view put their theory into action in clinics, schools, and hospitals.

So we have the unhappy situation of having drugs to relieve mental symptoms, but seeing them unused in the majority of clinics because the workers there either do not believe in them, or, not being MDs, cannot prescribe them. The confusion also reached into fund-granting by the federal government — in which money is given for action based on the environmental - psychological view, a view that has yet to be proved correct.

Until we get the same kind of leads we now have in cancer and heart disease, the attack on mental illness — no matter how much money we spend on it — will flounder hopelessly.

Aims At Legislature Action

Petition Eyed To Urge Ohio Sales Tax Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Signatures will be sought shortly for a petition to bring a state sales tax increase bill before the 1965 legislature.

A final decision on the oft-discussed proposal was reached Tuesday by the Ohio Council for Education, once a clearing house and now an action agency for legislative ideas of 10 education organizations.

The council's executive committee said increasing the sales tax from three to four per cent would produce $100 million more annually. Gov. James A. Rhodes said earlier this month he would ask for no new or increased taxes from the next legislature.

Proposed in the bill are a boost in the share of teachers' salaries paid by the state, more money for guidance and research work, and a large allocation to help crippled, emotionally disturbed, deaf and blind children.

It would increase the amount provided by the state for general operating expenses of local school districts, and give special dollar aid to districts with large enrollment growth.

Local districts would get $35 from the state for each "culturally disadvantaged" pupil enrolled, subject to State Education Department regulations.

At least 93,000 names are needed on petitions to bring the bill before the legislature. But the council said it will seek 179,000. The campaign for signatures will start late next month or early in October.

Reservation Due Friday In Annual Chamber Outing

The Chamber of Commerce today reminded its members reservations are due by Friday for the annual summer outing on Wednesday, Aug. 19, which will be highlighted by an Ohio River cruise and picnic.

The outing has been arranged by the Chamber's civic and community affairs committee, headed by Arthur Doak and James Walker, with the co-operation of the East Liverpool Yacht Club and the Ohio Valley Boat Club.

In a cruise aboard boats owned by members of the two clubs, the first craft will leave at 3 p. m. from the Yacht Club docks on Ferry Rd. off the Chester - Newell Rd. The boat departures will continue until 4.

The catered buffet style picnic will be served at the Yacht Club grounds about 6. The Chamber reminded members they should wear casual clothing, including a head cover and rubber-soled shoes.

In making reservations, members may mail a form which they were sent July 30 or telephone the Chamber office at FU 5-0845.

NEW YORK (AP)—The East Central Nuclear Group, composed of 14 electrical utilities serving the Ohio Valley and adjacent areas, has entered into a research agreement with Babcock & Wilcox Co. of Barberton, Ohio, aimed at developing a low-cost nuclear power reactor estimated to cost $100 million to build.

Frontier Town Slated For British Columbia

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — A full - scale frontier village is springing up at nearby Millstream and will cost its owner $30,000 before it is finished next year.

With 16 buildings, hundreds of antiques and a variety of domestic animals, builder Joseph Carlow says it should make a major tourist attraction.

The buildings will be based on old - style original designs and the whole village will be surrounded by a seven - foot stockade fence.

"Indians in Duncan have been carving a variety of things for the village including two 10-foot totem poles with seven-foot wingspans, another 14-foot totem pole and a 10-foot whale."

He found a lot of trouble getting authentic pieces. He spent a year looking for an antique locomotive bell and found a 100-year-old one by chance.

"I don't want to compromise the authenticity of anything in the village," he says. "I feel very strongly about this period of our history because my grandfather was one of the original pioneers in these parts."

KEEPING PACE

Crucible announced another new facility for Midland last week - - a continuous casting machine which will produce stainless steel slabs faster at less cost.

In the constant struggle to earn the sales needed to keep working, we must have a modern, well-equipped plant. Only then can Crucible stay competitive. At Midland works alone, several new projects, such as this bright annealing line, are underway to improve our ability to furnish flat roll products. They will go into operation this fall, helping to make us more competitive in stainless steel markets.

Major capital improvements, such as the casting machine and the bright annealing line, cost millions of dollars, but they are vital if we are to provide quality products and services at prices that will earn sales here and abroad.

EVEN THE BIKES ARE CROWDED—Everything in the Wong Tai Sin resettlement area in Hong Kong is forever overcrowded and transportation is no exception. Here, a family of five share a big tricycle. About 500,000 people will be housed in new resettlement "estates" during the next five years, says the Hong Kong government.

4-H News

Columbiana County 4-H Clubs will be open this fall to boys and girls 10 years old by Jan. 1 or in the fourth grade in school.

The new regulation was made by the County 4-H Council and becomes effective Oct. 1. Previously, prospective members had to be 10 years old by Jan. 1.

County 4-H Agent Robert Lewis said the change will permit any fourth grader to join 4-H and will increase county enrollment figures considerably in 1965.

The State 4-H Council recommended the change, Lewis said.

Ideas for the booth at the Lisbon fair were discussed at the meeting of the Helping Hands 4-H Club Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glass of the Lisbon Rd., Wellsville, advisors.

Committees to prepare for the booth were appointed. Lois McCollam, president, gave her report on visiting Michigan in connection with the Little International Farm Youth Exchange. A picnic will be held Monday at Lake Marwin with supper at 6:30. A 4-H rally will be held Sept. 28 at Lisbon. There were 15 members and two guests present.

Girl Refuses To Give Up Ex-Suitor's Skunk

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP) — Police of Liberal stopped an auto in which a young man had driven repeatedly around a residential block here.

The driver told officers he had broken up with his girl friend but that she refused to return his pet skunk named Little Flower.

The officers agreed to speak in his behalf, but the girl still refused. A gift was a gift, she said.

Police bowed out and suggested the man give up the skunk or take his case to court.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

A Bad Case Of TV-Itis

Until this week Buddy Ebsen was sitting on his 35-acre spread and letting "The Beverly Hillbillies" worry along without him.

Hal Humphrey

Filming was to start a couple of weeks ago, but Buddy was nursing a case of laryngitis rumored to have hit him right after he was turned down for a salary raise.

"I don't have that much control over my larynx," said Buddy with a grin, when asked if the rumor was true.

He flatly denies he was conducting a holdout or one of those quiet strikes against his employers.

BESIDES the salary rumor, Buddy also is supposed to have hit up CBS for a $1 million advance for some business scheme he wants to launch. The network said no to this, and Buddy's laryngitis coincidentally worsened.

"I'm not saying there's no truth to all these things you're throwing at me," Buddy added. "But I'm not a holdout. There are some negotiations and discussions going on. A fella always has to negotiate for things he needs."

Asked if any progress was being made in his negotiations, Buddy said there was. His laryngitis seemed to be improving, too.

"I caught a cold in Copenhagen before we left," said Buddy, "but the trip was really great. We spent eight weeks tavelin' around Europe. That's what I'm trying to do now — plan my life so's I can do more of those things."

-:-

TWO YEARS AGO Buddy probably was having trouble financing any kind of trip for himself and wife, Nancy, and the five smaller Ebsens.

"The Beverly Hillbillies" revived his career and his bank account, but allowed him no time to enjoy either.

"Show business is always a feast or a famine," Buddy philosophized, "but no matter what happens, a person needs time for himself."

One way to get this time would be for "Hillbillies" producer Paul Henning to write Jed Clampett (Buddy) out of an episode now and then. Buddy said this might be one of the "accommodations" in the continuing "discussions" currently simmering.

Theater around Los Angeles has been thriving and expanding recently, and Buddy is very interested in it. He wants to do theater work and later some producing on his own, perhaps.

SO FAR, Buddy's laryngitis has made him the only cast member on sick call, but sometimes such things can turn into epidemics — especially when it gets rumored around that the cure is a large dose of money.

Buddy was planning to come into town from his ranch, which he describes as being "surrounded on three sides by Bob Hope," and rejoin the "Hillbillies" family this week, so they all can go to work.

There's been quite a spate of sickness around Hollywood lately. Vic Morrow, one of the tough GI's in ABC's "Combat" series, had the croup or something a while back, and a money poultice brought him around.

JIM ARNESS, who looks as healthy as anybody, was too sick to show up for his "Gunsmoke" chores not long ago. Nobody heard the final diagnosis on just what Jim was sick of, but it probably was CBS. Anyway, he's back and well again.

A kid named Sammy Jackson, who plays the sergeant in the new "No Time for Sergeants" series, is said to have experienced some kind of cramps the other day when he discovered the two sub-leads on the show are making more money than he is.

When you get sick even before your show goes on the air, it's possible you're just suffering from hallucinations brought on by delusions of grandeur.

The climate in California obviously isn't as healthful as the Chamber of Commerce advertises.

Rhodes, Leaders 'Lean' Towards Special Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes and legislative leaders are "leaning" towards a special session of the General Assembly late this year.

That's the word from John McElroy, top Rhodes' aide, in the governor's absence on a trip to Washington. McElroy said the governor now feels that an extraordinary session may be desirable but that no date or agenda has been set.

A definite decision, one way or the other, might be reached this month, McElroy speculated. Only the governor can call a special session.

Implementation of the voter-approved $500 million highway bond issue, pay raises for county officials and congressional redistricting are the most likely subjects for inclusion in a legislative call. He expressed doubt that legislative reapportionment would be considered.

Rhodes is keeping in touch with legislative leaders, who appear more favorable towards a special session than formerly, McElroy added.

If your cookie - type meringues aren't hard enough for your taste, try letting them stand in a turned-off oven to cool.

Korea War Turncoat Working In Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Scott L. Rush, 32, a former Akron resident who refused repatriation from Red China at the end of the Korean War, has returned here and is working as a shipping clerk.

Rush, who was captured in Korea Nov. 26, 1950, and spent 10 years in China, left here in 1949. He was one of several Korean war turncoats who returned to this country last fall, but went to Tucson, Ariz., to live with his mother.

He is now living here in a small apartment with his Chinese wife, Helen, and their 2-year-old daughter, Betty.

'New Look' Takes Over As Eagles Await Season

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles are all shook up. A series of deals by Joe Kuharich, the new head coach, swept out such old familiar faces as Sonny Jurgensen and Tommy McDonald and replaced them with Norm Snead, Earl Gros, Red Mack and a host of rookies.

Things are in a state of flux in the Eagles' training camp because everybody is new. There is a new owner, Jerry Wolman, new coaching staff, new system and new personnel. Most important, Kuharich hopes, is a new spirit.

"We know we have an uphill struggle," said the former Notre Dame coach. "We are behind everybody else but we hope to improve on last year's cellar record of 2-10-2. We have a young front line on offense with the exception of Jim Ringo and Pete Retzlaff. Basically we will be a blend of the old and the new.

"We just couldn't go along with the defense they had last year. The worst thing is to score 24 or 28 points and still get beat. Your defense should be able to hold the other team to between 21 and 24 points."

The addition of Gros, a fine fullback from Green Bay, plus the speed and drive of Tim Brown, the holdover halfback, gives the Eagles a more powerful running game. Kuharich expects help from Ollie Matson, his old San Francisco U. Protege who was acquired from Detroit.

Norm Snead, the quarterback who came from Washington in the deal for Jurgensen, will have split ends Ron Goodwin and Ray Poage, tight end Retzlaff and flanker Red Mack, ex-Pittsburgh Steeler, as his prime targets. If Snead falters, King Hill is available. Jack Concannon, rookie from Boston College, must start from scratch because he joined the club after the All-Star game.

Kuharich counts on rookie Bob Brown of Nebraska, an unusually agile man for a 275-pounder, to handle an offensive tackle job, teaming with sophomore Dave Graham. Ringo in the middle and Ed Blaine and Pete Case at the guards round out the front line. Kuharich also is high on guard Lynn Hoyem, former Dallas Cowboy.

Friendly Joe still is backing and filling on his defensive front four among Riley Gunnels, John Meyers (ex - Dallas), Floyd Peters (ex - Detroit) and George Tarasovic.

The linebacking crew probably will include Ralph Heck, Dave Lloyd and Maxie Baughan. Glenn Glass (ex-Pittsburgh) and Irv Cross at the corners and Nate Ramsey and Don Burroughs at safety are the likely deep backs but there will be changes all season.

Sam Baker, veteran acquired from Dallas in the McDonald deal, will do the punting and placekicking.

Senate Group Okays Training School Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate appropriations subcommittee has approved a $7.65 million item for construction of the National Training School for Boys at Morgantown, W. Va.

Construction funds already have been approved by the House. Senate committee action came Tuesday.

The U. S. Bureau of Prisons has purchased property for the $8.5 million facility and site work has started.

In other actions, the subcommittee authorized $393,100 for operation of West Virginia weather stations. Included are Charleston, $71,200; Beckley, $77,200; Elkins, $49,800; and Parkersburg, $31,700.

Money for the Parkersburg station has not been included in a House appropriations measure.

Illegal Parking Solved In Brazil In Unique Ways

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Rio de Janeiro solved its illegal parking problem by deflating the tires of violators.

Sister city Sao Paul has come up with a more subtle but just as effective solution:

Illegally parked cars are impounded. To recover the car, the owner must go to the proper department and pay the 20 cruzeiro — less than two cents —fine.

Simple? The Paulistas have employed every trick in the bureaucratic book to make it complicated.

The owner must go in person. The pound is on the outskirts near the airport. No buses go by it. It is either an expensive taxi ride or a long walk.

When the owner arrives he finds a line ahead of him.

The delegates charged with accepting the fines is painstaking in checking documents and is obliged to pause frequently for coffee breaks or to talk on the telephone.

Odd Facts

There are 1,027 different kinds of forest trees growing in the United States. This includes 78 species of "naturalized" trees brought in from other parts of the world which have made themselves so much at home that they are generally considered native.

Southernmost point in the United States is Ka Lae, or "South Cape," in Hawaii. Located on Hawaii, largest of the several islands that make up the 50th State, Ka Lae lies on a parallel with Mexico City.

Lloyd's of London, one of the world's largest insurance companies, began as a coffee house in 1686 run by Edward Lloyd.

A Junior Editors Quiz About

WHALES

QUESTION: What are baby whales like?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Although a whale looks something like a fish, he is an entirely different kind of animal—a mammal,—with warm, instead of cold blood as a fish has. Most fish lay many eggs. At first, after hatching, the young fish live on the egg yolk attached to their bodies but they soon start feeding and usually can shift for themselves at once. In contrast, a whale gives birth to one calf at a time (or sometimes to twins) and the calf lives on its mother's milk, as land mammals do, for quite some time. Whale calves are literally some babies, being often one third of their mother's length when born, which means they may be 10 to 20 feet long. Mother whales seem fond of their huge babies and guard them carefully, mother and calf usually swimming along side by side. After a while, the calf learns to eat sea food and loses his fondness for his mother's milk. The whales in our picture are of the "right whale" type, which means they have huge mouths filled with small strips of whalebone. These strips are used to screen small creatures, such as shrimps, from the water. Then they swallow them through a small throat opening.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: You may be wondering what the two elephants are doing in a picture about whales. It's to point up the fact that a baby whale weighs about as much as two elephants. Now see if you can find out how much an elephant weighs.
